TAX DEADLINE HERE ON MONDAY

Monday will be the day of reckoning for a number of borough residents That day will be the last day to pay county and borough taxes before the five percent penalty is slapped on and most of those who still have not paid their taxes will probably jam the tax collector's office between 9 a m and 4 p m Monday to avoid the penalty

To date borough residents have paid $75,411.51 of the $83,132 42 tax bill they owe the borough and county The remainder still owe $7,720.91

County and borough taxes are at par during Monday as the last day for paying comes on Sunday Starting Tuesday the five percent penalty will be added School taxes, on Tuesday, go up to par and those who pay off their school levy by Monday can save the usual two percent. The school taxes will be at par until December 1 when a five percent penalty is added

So far borough residents have paid $60,794 68 of the current $79,042 59 in school taxation leaving $19,247 91 still to be paid to the tax collector

Weikert added that wage attachments will be placed on persons owing occupation taxes after October 2 and personal property tax sales will be instituted to collect occupation taxes on non-wage earners, according to the law concerning the non-payment of the taxes

He also said that the law requires the tax collector to bring suit against employers who fail to deduct taxes from wages of employes after an attachment has been issued by the tax collector

STATE COURT RULING CUTS OFF EXPENSES

Adams county's commissioners and many county commissioners throughout the state will lose their expenses as members of county institution districts for the period extending back to the middle of 1949, as a result of a decision of the state Superior court Wednesday at Philadelphia

Where other commissioners, however may have to do a lot of figuring to determine just where they stand in regard to what they accepted as their expenses for county institutional district work, the Adams county commissioners will merely be paying to the county an amount they set aside last March

Adams county's commissioners will repay $833.32 each to the county treasurer according to an agreement into which they entered with the county auditors in March when they learned that a court suit was pending on the constitutionality of Public Law 1359 permitting the expense account

Bradford Tested Law

When it was learned there was doubt on the constitutionality of the expense accounts, the commissioners refused to accept any additional expense money and determined the exact amount they had received up to that time They had received $250 during 1949, $500 during 1950 and $83 32 for the first two months of 1951. They set aside that amount pending decision of the state court

The case entered the courts when the auditors in Bradford county questioned the legality of the Bradford county commissioners accepting the lump sum expenses provided by the act of the 1949 state legislature

May Be Total Loss

The Bradford commissioners took the case to the courts and the Bradford county court held the law unconstitutional The matter was then referred to the state Superior court, which handed down its decision Wednesday. The court said the act "clearly, palpably and plainly violates the constitution" of Pennsylvania which prohibits "an increase in the salary or emoluments of a public officer during the term of office" to which he is elected. The court added that the constitutional provision "is inexorable and may not be avoided by indirection."

Loss of the lump sum expense account payment will probably mean that the Adams county commissioners will lose entirely the expenses they would otherwise have received during the more than two-year period While the state Superior court ruling would permit an allowance for expenses during the period, the county commissioners are doubtful today if they could discover bills, etc for their actual expenses during the period from the middle of 1949 through 1950 when they were operating under the lump sum procedure

EXTENSION UNIT CONDUCTS PANEL ON THURSDAY

A panel discussion on "What Makes Us Tick?" featured the meeting Thursday evening of the Adams County Senior Extension club held at St Francis Xavier hall

Dr C R Gordon, of Pennsylvania State college, was moderator for the panel which included William Wilson, Myles Starner Roland Kime Nadine Baker Edwina Lawver and Harriet Geiselman

One of the questions was "How can we extend the facilities of our communities' organizations to those who need them most," with the group noting that "our recreational programs, our character training programs all seem to attract those who need them least, while the ones they are designed most to help are not reached"

Suggested Home Meetings

The discussion indicated a desire of youths for more participation by parents in various activities The suggestion was made that neighborhood groups should meet in the homes One panel member suggested, It almost seems like parents set up recreational organizations to get the children out of the house"

When one member of the panel asked, "Do parents tend to boss too long?" the group decided the question was unanswerable because "there are parents who boss too long and then there are parents who do not boss long enough"

Members of the club will participate in four parts of the annual show held in connection with the Farm Show at Harrisburg January 15

Farm Show Plans

According to a report by Kay Bucher and Fred Crouse, representatives of the county club to a state wide meeting in connection with the farm show, the local group will take part in a square dance, a dance entitled "Makin' Down Out," in a dance entitled "Sparkin" and in the finale in which the members of the cast will form themselves into the outline of the word "Pennsylvania." Members are asked to obtain umbrella forms for the "Makin' Down Out" dance.

The group voted in favor of regular bowling parties throughout the winter season, and also suggested that a number of skating parties be held during the winter. Roland Kime was appointed by President Thomas Murren as sports director to make arrangements for the various affairs.

Plans were outlined for a hayride October 11. The committee comprises Wilmer Stoner, Mary Kathryn Lawrence and Harriet Geiselman

The next meeting will be held in the form of a Halloween party October 25 at the home of Helen Mummert, East Berlin

Plans were also announced for a dance to be held in November to which former members of the organization will be invited

Argentina Reports Revolt Of 2 Generals Squelched

Buenos Aires, Argentina, Sept 28 (AP)—The official state radio announced today a revolt was staged by two former army generals against the government of Juan D Peron and was swiftly put down

The radio, a short time after announcing civil war had broken out in Argentina, declared the government quelled the rising headed by former Gen Arturo Rawson and former Gen. Benjamin Menendez Rawson was a leader of a 1943 rebellion which placed him in the presidency just two days

There was no information available from other sources The capital has been closed down tightly, with business establishments shuttered There were many rumors of troop movements, but these, too, could not be confirmed.

No fighting was observed in the streets of Buenos Aires except for sporadic fist fights But a large crowd was pouring into the Plaza de Mayo in front of Peron's offices shouting 'La Vida por Peron' (our lives for Peron)

(In Washington observers close to Argentine affairs said the revolution may have been a bona fide one but could have been a staged affair to whip up sentiment for Peron in the forthcoming November 11 elections in which he is a candidate to succeed himself However there have been many reports of army dissatisfaction with the regime)

Rawson overthrew the government of President Ramon S Castillo in 1943, and was president for two days before he was ousted

Rawson was arrested, ousted from the army and sent to prison for six months on a charge of being involved in a short-lived revolt of the Cordoba garrison in September, 1945

FIREMEN HOLD WATER BATTLE

Two score members of the Gettysburg fire department took a soaking in a water battle staged Thursday evening at South Washington and Breckenridge streets

There were actually two battles The team "captained" by Paul Anzengruber won the first when it defeated Billy Shealer's nozzlemen, while in the second, Second Assistant Chief Donald Staub's team vanquished First Assistant Chief Donald McSherry's outfit

Helmets were knocked off by the streams of water and rubber coats and boots were no proof against a wetting Two streams from the fire department's new Mack pumper were used, from a hydrant at the southwest corner of the two streets

Several spectators who crowded too close to see the fun also got "sprinkled"

ENLARGE FIRE HOUSE TO CARE FOR ALL TRUCKS

The Gettysburg Fire department, which has one of the most completely equipped departments for a town of anywhere near its size in the United States, will soon have all of its apparatus under one roof

Workmen today completed removing part of a rear wall at the fire engine house on East Middle street so that the aerial ladder truck can be moved farther back to make room for a pumper in front of it

With the new Mack 750-gallon combination pumper, the fire department now has four pumps, a service truck and the ladder truck, which has a 65-foot extension ladder equipped with a nozzle at the top

Add Booster Tank

One of the pumpers is in the paint shop at the present time but will be returned to duty shortly Its ladder racks were removed, and a 450-gallon booster tank installed prior to the re-painting It will be used for all farm fires and will also be available for fires in the borough.

Knocking out of the rear wall was accomplished by removing the old borough lockup cell blocks The work was done by Morris Gitlin. Work on the wall was done by McDermitt brothers

Equipment carried by the service truck includes emergency lights, a gasoline-powered generating plant, portable pump, iron lung and resuscitator The department also has equipment for fighting brush and forest fires, as well as modern equipment for all other types of blazes

Personnel of the fire department numbers approximately 125 men. Burgess William G Weaver is president, and Donald G Jacobs fire chief

General Bradley In Tokyo; May Map Full Scale War If Cease-Fire Talks Collapse; Reds Launch Sharp Attacks

Tokyo, Sept. 28 (AP)—Gen Omar Bradley arrived tonight, possibly to map strategy if the Korean truce talks collapse completely and full-scale fighting erupts.

Bradley's plane arrived at nearby Haneda airport at 9 30 p.m (7 30 a.m., EST) The chairman of the U S joint chiefs of staff was accompanied by Charles Bohlen, State Department expert on Russia

The Defense Department in Washington said Bradley would "survey all aspects of the situation" with Gen Matthew P Ridgway, supreme Allied commander

Urges New Meeting Place

Ridgway yesterday suggested a switch in the truce talk site in an effort to revive the stalled armistice talks

Peiping radio treated Ridgway's proposal with rough language

The Chinese and North Koreans have not answered Ridgway's suggestion Thursday for getting the bogged down parley going again. He wanted the conference site switched from Kaesong behind Red lines, to the Songhyon area in no-man's-land The village is six miles southeast of Kaesong

Observers said this could be Ridgway's last compromise proposal.

New Red Attacks

U.S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Sept. 28 (AP) — Communist forces launched a series of sharp attacks last night at widely scattered points across 50 miles of the Korean battle front

Behind the lines, they rolled a mass of men and supplies toward the front along all the major north-south roads across the waist of the Korean peninsula

They took advantage of a moonless night. But Allied planes converged on the main arteries and the U.S Fifth Air Force said its pilots destroyed 508 Communist vehicles and damaged 613—a record. The old mark was 964, set Wednesday.

Attack 1,700 Trucks

The roving airmen attacked more than 1,700 trucks from dusk Thursday to dawn Friday, the Fifth Air Force said.

The tempo of Communist troop and transport activity sharpened as efforts to revive the stalled truce talks reached a virtual standstill

The Communist forces threw their sharpest attacks in the Yonchon and Chorwon sectors near western Korea's iron triangle, and in the east-central area at Heartbreak Ridge and the Punchbowl heights

The Reds lobbed artillery and motar shells throughout Thursday night at Allied infantrymen dug in just below the crest of Heartbreak, a hill mass north of Yanggu

Other Red troops attacked American and South Korean troops holding a hill west of the ridge. They had captured it only Tuesday. The fight raged on into the morning.

It appeared that the Reds were trying to cut off advance Allied units both in the east and west.

Filed with the county register and recorder, the will provides for certain bequests of household articles to a niece, Mrs. Virginia Ramsey, of Pittsburgh, and to Mrs. Curtis Mehring, York. The remainder of the estate is to be added to another trust fund in the Littlestown National bank to be administered for the benefit of the church.

The Littlestown National bank, executor of the will, lists Mrs. Mehring's estate at $1,000.

Denies Influence

William M. Boyle, Jr., National Democratic chairman, denies Thursday before a Senate Investigations subcommittee in Washington that he used political influence to get RFC loans from the American Lithofold corporation, but he admitted he had made an appointment for the printing firm president with the RFC chairman. He said he saw nothing improper in that.—(AP Wirephoto)

TAX DEADLINE HERE ON MONDAY

Monday will be the day of reckoning for a number of borough residents. That day will be the last day to pay county and borough taxes before the five percent penalty is slapped on, and most of those who still have not paid their taxes will probably jam the tax collector's office between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. Monday to avoid the penalty.

To date, borough residents have paid $75,411.51 of the $83,132.42 tax bill they owe the borough and county. The remainder still owe $7,720.91.

County and borough taxes are at par during Monday as the last day for paying comes on Sunday. Starting Tuesday the five percent penalty will be added. School taxes, on Tuesday, go up to par and those who pay off their school levy by Monday can save the usual two percent. The school taxes will be at par until December 1 when a five percent penalty is added.

So far borough residents have paid $60,794.68 of the current $79,042.59 in school taxation, leaving $18,247.91 still to be paid to the tax collector.

Weikert added that wage attachments will be placed on persons owing occupation taxes after October 2 and personal property tax sales will be instituted to collect occupation taxes on non-wage earners, according to the law concerning the non-payment of the taxes.

He also said that the law requires the tax collector to bring suit against employers who fail to deduct taxes from wages of employes after an attachment has been issued by the tax collector.

STATE COURT RULING CUTS OFF EXPENSES

Adams county's commissioners and many county commissioners throughout the state will lose their expenses as members of county institution districts for the period extending back to the middle of 1949, as a result of a decision of the state Superior court Wednesday at Philadelphia.

Where other commissioners, however, may have to do a lot of figuring to determine just where they stand in regard to what they accepted as their expenses for county institutional district work, the Adams county commissioners will merely be paying to the county an amount they set aside last March.

Adams county's commissioners will repay $833.32 each to the county treasurer according to an agreement into which they entered with the county auditors in March when they learned that a court suit was pending on the constitutionality of Public Law 1359 permitting the expense account.

Bradford Tested Law

When it was learned there was doubt on the constitutionality of the expense accounts, the commissioners refused to accept any additional expense money and determined the exact amount they had received up to that time. They had received $250 during 1949, $500 during 1950 and $83.32 for the first two months of 1951. They set aside that amount pending decision of the state court.

The case entered the courts when the auditors in Bradford county questioned the legality of the Bradford county commissioners accepting the lump sum expenses provided by the act of the 1949 state legislature.

May Be Total Loss

The Bradford commissioners took the case to the courts and the Bradford county court held the law unconstitutional. The matter was then referred to the state Superior court, which handed down its decision Wednesday. The court said the act "clearly, palpably and plainly violates the constitution" of Pennsylvania which prohibits "an increase in the salary or emoluments of a public officer during the term of office" to which he is elected. The court added that the constitutional provision "is inexorable and may not be avoided by indirection."

Loss of the lump sum expense account payment will probably mean that the Adams county commissioners will lose entirely the expenses they would otherwise have received during the more than two-year period. While the state Superior court ruling would permit an allowance for expenses during the period, the county commissioners are doubtful today if they could discover bills, etc., for their actual expenses during the period from the middle of 1949 through 1950 when they were operating under the lump sum procedure.

EXTENSION UNIT CONDUCTS PANEL ON THURSDAY

A panel discussion on "What Makes Us Tick?" featured the meeting Thursday evening of the Adams County Senior Extension club held at St. Francis Xavier hall.

Dr. C. R. Gordon, of Pennsylvania State college, was moderator for the panel which included William Wilson, Myles Starner, Roland Kime, Nadine Baker, Edwina Lawver and Harriet Geiselman.

One of the questions was "How can we extend the facilities of our communities' organizations to those who need them most," with the group noting that "our recreational programs, our character training programs all seem to attract those who need them least, while the ones they are designed most to help are not reached."

Suggested Home Meetings

The discussion indicated a desire of youths for more participation by parents in various activities. The suggestion was made that neighborhood groups should meet in the homes. One panel member suggested, "It almost seems like parents set up recreational organizations to get the children out of the house."

When one member of the panel asked, "Do parents tend to boss too long?" the group decided the question was unanswerable because "there are parents who boss too long and then there are parents who do not boss long enough."

Members of the club will participate in four parts of the annual show held in connection with the Farm Show at Harrisburg January 15.

Farm Show Plans

According to a report by Kay Bucher and Fred Crouse, representatives of the county club to a state wide meeting in connection with the farm show, the local group will take part in a square dance, a dance entitled "Makin' Down Out," in a dance entitled "Sparkin'" and in the finale in which the members of the cast will form themselves into the outline of the word "Pennsylvania." Members are asked to obtain umbrella forms for the "Makin' Down Out" dance.

The group voted in favor of regular bowling parties throughout the winter season, and also suggested that a number of skating parties be held during the winter. Roland Kime was appointed by President Thomas Murren as sports director to make arrangements for the various affairs.

Plans were outlined for a hayride October 11. The committee comprises Wilmer Stoner, Mary Kathryn Lawrence and Harriet Geiselman.

The next meeting will be held in the form of a Halloween party October 25 at the home of Helen Mummert, East Berlin.

Plans were also announced for a dance to be held in November to which former members of the organization will be invited.

Argentina Reports Revolt Of 2 Generals Squelched

Buenos Aires, Argentina, Sept. 28 (AP)—The official state radio announced today a revolt was staged by two former army generals against the government of Juan D. Peron and was swiftly put down.

The radio, a short time after announcing civil war had broken out in Argentina, declared the government quelled the rising headed by former Gen. Arturo Rawson and former Gen. Benjamin Menendez. Rawson was a leader of a 1943 rebellion which placed him in the presidency just two days.

There was no information available from other sources. The capital has been closed down tightly, with business establishments shuttered. There were many rumors of troop movements, but these, too, could not be confirmed.

No fighting was observed in the streets of Buenos Aires except for sporadic fist fights. But a large crowd was pouring into the Plaza de Mayo in front of Peron's offices, shouting "La Vida por Peron" (our lives for Peron).

(In Washington observers close to Argentine affairs said the revolution may have been a bona fide one, but could have been a staged affair to whip up sentiment for Peron in the forthcoming November 11 elections in which he is a candidate to succeed himself. However there have been many reports of army dissatisfaction with the regime.)

Rawson overthrew the government of President Ramon S. Castillo in 1943, and was president for two days before he was ousted.

Rawson was arrested, ousted from the army and sent to prison for six months on a charge of being involved in a short-lived revolt of the Cordoba garrison in September, 1945.

FIREMEN HOLD WATER BATTLE

Two score members of the Gettysburg fire department took a soaking in a water battle staged Thursday evening at South Washington and Breckenridge streets.

There were actually two battles. The team "captained" by Paul Anzengruber won the first, when it defeated Billy Shealer's nozzlemen, while in the second, Second Assistant Chief Donald Staub's team vanquished First Assistant Chief Donald McSherry's outfit.

Helmets were knocked off by the streams of water and rubber coats and boots were no proof against a wetting. Two streams from the fire department's new Mack pumper were used, from a hydrant at the southwest corner of the two streets.

Several spectators who crowded too close to see the fun also got "sprinkled."

ENLARGE FIRE HOUSE TO CARE FOR ALL TRUCKS

The Gettysburg Fire department, which has one of the most completely equipped departments for a town of anywhere near its size in the United States, will soon have all of its apparatus under one roof.

Workmen today completed removing part of a rear wall at the fire engine house on East Middle street so that the aerial ladder truck can be moved farther back to make room for a pumper in front of it.

With the new Mack 750-gallon combination pumper, the fire department now has four pumps, a service truck and the ladder truck, which has a 65-foot extension ladder equipped with a nozzle at the top.

Add Booster Tank

One of the pumpers is in the paint shop at the present time but will be returned to duty shortly. Its ladder racks were removed, and a 450-gallon booster tank installed prior to the re-painting. It will be used for all farm fires and will also be available for fires in the borough.

Knocking out of the rear wall was accomplished by removing the old borough lockup cell blocks. The work was done by Morris Gitlin. Work on the wall was done by McDermitt brothers.

Equipment carried by the service truck includes emergency lights, a gasoline-powered generating plant, portable pump, iron lung and resuscitator. The department also has equipment for fighting brush and forest fires, as well as modern equipment for all other types of blazes.

Personnel of the fire department numbers approximately 125 men. Burgess William G. Weaver is president, and Donald G. Jacobs fire chief.

Cpl. Becker Now At Camp Pickett, Va.

Cpl. Samuel Becker, son of John Becker, 249 South Washington street, who was evacuated recently from Korea to a hospital in Japan, now is in a hospital at Camp Pickett, Va., the father has been advised.

After a news report was published by The Gettysburg Times Monday stating that Cpl. Becker had been evacuated from Korea to a general hospital near Fukuoka, Japan, Mr. Becker went to the Red Cross here for help in securing more information about his son.

The Red Cross wired its national home service headquarters for information and found that Becker never had been listed as a casualty. While the Red Cross was trying new channels for information on Cpl. Becker, Mr. Becker was notified his son had been admitted at the Camp Pickett hospital on Tuesday and that he was receiving treatment there for a fractured arm.

How the injury was received is not known here.

Six Truck Drivers Nabbed By Troopers

Six more truck drivers have been charged by state police of the Gettysburg substation with carrying loads in excess of the legal limits, and one, Robert Lee Shipp, Kingsport, Tenn., paid a fine of $25 and costs to Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder. He was charged with a five percent overload.

Others, charged with ten percent overloading before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore, have been sent ten-day notices. They are: Ronald McDonough, Cooperstown R. 1, Pa.; Henry A. Greig, Somerset, Pa.; Joseph L. English, Laurenberg, N. C.; Charles M. Millhouse, Newville, Pa., and Herbert R. Shipley, Westminster R. 6, Md.

General Bradley In Tokyo; May Map Full Scale War If Cease-Fire Talks Collapse; Reds Launch Sharp Attacks

OFFICERS OF LEAGUE PLAN CONVENTION

The Woman's League of Gettysburg college has "high hopes" of achieving its goal of raising $20,000 for the organ fund for the new college chapel by the time the general league members gather here November 1 and 2 for their annual convention.

That report came from Thursday's meeting here of the officers and executive board of the general league. Sessions were held in the morning and afternoon at the SCA building on the campus with Dr. and Mrs. Henry W. A. Hanson serving as hosts to the group at a luncheon at the Hotel Gettysburg.

The board set the theme for the November convention and was told who the principal convention speakers will be. The convention theme will be "Under the Shadow of the Almighty."

Golden Book "Shower"

Mrs. H. O. Walker, York, program chairman for the convention, announced that these speakers will be heard at the November sessions: Dr. Millard Gladfelter, vice president of Temple university, and Mrs. Austin Fellenbaum, Lancaster, member of the board of trustees of the college, who will speak the afternoon of November 1, and Mrs. C. T. Nelson, Washington, D. C., the speaker for the annual banquet session.

Reports presented at Thursday's meeting showed $8,500 in the organ fund at present. Plans were made for special efforts for a "Golden Book Shower" at the league convention in November. The league hopes to have many names added to the lists in these "Golden Books": Golden Book of Jewels, Honor, Memory, Students, Victory and Special Gifts.

Dr. Hanson, college president, addressed the executive group Thurs-

Military services and graveside rites will be held at the National cemetery here Monday morning at 11 o'clock for Thomas E. Whittinghill, 26, formerly of Gettysburg, who died Monday at Louisville, Ky.

Members of the local military organizations will provide the squads for the military services. The Rev. Fr. Anthony F. Kane, pastor of St. Francis Xavier Catholic church here, will officiate for the graveside rites.

A requiem mass was said this morning at New Albany, Ind., for the former local man. He attended the Gettysburg schools and after navy service was advertising manager of the Waynesboro Record Herald. He died in Louisville, Ky., where he was employed as an advertising representative, from injuries suffered in an automobile accident.

Bargains, used clothing sale, open tonight and tomorrow, Xavier Hall. Benefit St. Francis Xavier Mother's club.

Tokyo, Sept. 28 (AP)—Gen. Omar Bradley arrived tonight, possibly to map strategy if the Korean truce talks collapse completely and full-scale fighting erupts.

Bradley's plane arrived at nearby Haneda airport at 9:30 p.m. (7:30 a.m., EST). The chairman of the U.S. joint chiefs of staff was accompanied by Charles Bohlen, State Department expert on Russia.

The Defense Department in Washington said Bradley would "survey all aspects of the situation" with Gen. Matthew P. Ridgway, supreme Allied commander.

Urges New Meeting Place

Ridgway yesterday suggested a switch in the truce talk site in an effort to revive the stalled armistice talks.

Peiping radio treated Ridgway's proposal with rough language.

The Chinese and North Koreans have not answered Ridgway's suggestion Thursday for getting the bogged down parley going again. He wanted the conference site switched from Kaesong, behind Red lines, to the Songhyon area in no-man's-land. The village is six miles southeast of Kaesong.

Observers said this could be Ridgway's last compromise proposal.

New Red Attacks

U.S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Sept. 28 (AP) — Communist forces launched a series of sharp attacks last night at widely scattered points across 50 miles of the Korean battle front.

Behind the lines, they rolled a mass of men and supplies toward the front along all the major north-south roads across the waist of the Korean peninsula.

They took advantage of a moonless night. But Allied planes converged on the main arteries and the U.S. Fifth Air Force said its pilots destroyed 508 Communist vehicles and damaged 613—a record. The old mark was 964, set Wednesday.

Attack 1,700 Trucks

The roving airmen attacked more than 1,700 trucks from dusk Thursday to dawn Friday, the Fifth Air Force said.

The tempo of Communist troop and transport activity sharpened as efforts to revive the stalled truce talks reached a virtual standstill.

The Communist forces threw their sharpest attacks in the Yonchon and Chorwon sectors near western Korea's iron triangle, and in the east-central area at Heartbreak Ridge and the Punchbowl heights.

The Reds lobbed artillery and motar shells throughout Thursday night at Allied infantrymen dug in just below the crest of Heartbreak, a hill mass north of Yanggu.

Other Red troops attacked American and South Korean troops holding a hill west of the ridge. They had captured it only Tuesday. The fight raged on into the morning.

It appeared that the Reds were trying to cut off advance Allied units both in the east and west.

ROBERT LIVESAY GETS PROMOTION

Promoted to major in the U.S. Air Force recently at McChord Air Force Base, Tacoma, Wash., was Capt. Robert G. Livesay, senior pilot and a graduate of Gettysburg high school in 1937.

Major Livesay is military personnel officer for the 1740th Air Transport Squadron at McChord. His squadron, a unit within the Military Air Transport Service, is currently conducting a Heavy Transport Training Unit school, a training course for crew members flying the giant Douglas C-124 Globemaster.

The four-engine Globemasters of MATS at McChord are now airlifting troops and supplies to Alaska and the Aleutians. The Washington base is one of the pivot spots in MATS 75,000 miles of global transport routes.

A student at Gettysburg college for two years, Major Livesay entered military service, completed pilot training and was commissioned a second lieutenant in 1942. He was promoted to first lieutenant in March, 1944, and received his captain's bars a year later.

He returned overseas in 1948 to fly food and coal in the Berlin airlift when the citizens in the isolated German capital were virtually cut off from overland communication with the western powers.

RETURNING FROM KOREA

Sgt. Richard E. Bixler, Littlestown, was among the more than 2,200 combat veterans who have arrived at San Francisco from Korea. They are being returned home on rotation and will receive new assignments.

SOME OPINIONS ON SALARIES OF CONGRESSMEN

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Sept. 27 (AP) — Members of the Senate and House get a salary of $12,500 a year plus $2,500, tax-free, for expenses. But this doesn't seem enough to Rep. McCormack of Massachusetts, Democratic leader of the House.

In fact he says the pay is unfortunate. And to correct this situation he got up in the House and suggested salaries of members of Congress ought to be $25,000 a year. He was widely applauded.

When he heard about McCormack's proposal an eager-beaver of my acquaintance, a serious young man who takes a great interest in government, raised a question.

Better Congress?

He said: "If all members of Congress got $25,000 I wonder if we'd have a better Congress, better men."

It's quite possible there are a lot of men more capable than a lot of members of Congress who feel they can't afford to run for Congress because they're making more than $15,000 although less than $25,000.

And if the pay was raised to $25,000 they might be willing to have a go at it. But when he tried to examine this problem from all sides the eager-beaver wasn't sure that good pay alone means a better Congress.

In the first place he remembered that a public opinion poll was taken a few years ago and it was discovered that out of every 100 American voters 62 could not remember the name of their own congressman.

It wasn't hard to conclude from this that if a voter didn't know his congressman's name, he'd hardly know the congressman's voting record or where he stood on any public issue.

And if he wasn't interested enough to know that but still voted for the man then it couldn't have meant much to him what kind of man he sent to Congress anyway.

Happy Medium

And if that's the way 62 out of every 100 voters pick their congressman, the eager-beaver thought, salary wasn't going to make much difference in the kind of Congress the voters picked.

He was aware of one thing, of course. If congressmen got no pay at all then only those with plenty of income could afford to serve in Congress and, being men of affluence, they might be very much out of touch with the needs and desires of people who had little income.

In the end, no salary would turn Congress into a rich man's club. But nobody is going to starve on $15,000 a year, so with that kind of pay there's a good chance of attracting rich men with other income, who can afford to work in Congress, and poor men who'd like to make $15,000.

Washington, Sept. 27 (AP) — Max Siskind, Washington lawyer, testified that he bought some law practice from William M. Boyle, Jr., the Democratic national chairman, in 1949 for $150,000 but balked at giving senators a list of the clients.

In an often stormy session, Siskind insisted to a Senate investigations subcommittee that the account of American Lithofold Corp. was not among those he purchased from Boyle. And he declared that Boyle gets no part of a $500-a-month retainer fee he now receives from Lithofold.

HARRY GROSS GETS 12 YEARS

New York, Sept. 28 (AP)—Bookie Harry Gross, sentenced to 12 years in prison for operating a $20,000,000-a-year gambling ring, still faces an additional 10-year jail term for contempt stemming from the police graft trial.

The 35-year-old bookie sat glum and silent yesterday as he heard himself sentenced in special sessions court to serve one year each, running consecutively, on 12 counts of a 66-count indictement charging gambling and conspiracy.

Sentence was suspended on the other 54 counts, and there was no fine. Maximum sentence would have been 68 years in jail and $34,000 in fines.

The bookie still faces other prison terms. At the collapse of the recent police trial, Judge Leibowitz sentenced Gross to five years and a $15,000 fine for contempt.

On Wednesday, the grand jury indicted Gross on charges of criminal contempt, which carry a 10-year maximum jail term and a $10,000 fine on conviction. The jury's indictement supersedes Judge Leibowitz' penalty.

Gross' attorney, Michael Kern, said he would appeal yesterday's sentence immediately.

The fire loss was determined at $5,000, according to Leon Stover, chief of the Rocky Ridge fire company, who had conferred with authorities on the damage.

Washington, Sept. 28 (AP)—Senator Benton (D.-Conn.) today accused Senator McCarthy (R.-Wis.) of "perjury and deception of the American people" in pressing his Communists-in-government charges. Benton made the accusation under oath at a public hearing on his resolution looking toward the possibility of ousting McCarthy from the Senate.

He said his testimony would help a Senate Rules subcommittee decide whether McCarthy "has committed perjury and whether he has practiced calculated deceit on both the U. S. Senate and the American people."

Washington, Sept. 28 (AP)—President Truman said today he would support a proposal for Canada to build the St. Lawrence seaway if the project can not be started soon as a joint U. Washington, Sept. 28 (AP)—A newspaper reporter was invited today to tell senators the basis for his accusations that Democratic National Chairman William M. Boyle, Jr., received $8,000 from a client who got a big government loan.

PA Department Is Neutral On Pensions

Harrisburg, Sept. 28 (AP)—The Department of Public Assistance indicated today that it is taking a neutral stand on proposed legislation to increase pensions for Pennsylvania's blind from $40 to $50 a month.

"The whole matter is entirely up to the Legislature," Mrs. Eleanor C. Evans, public assistance secretary, told a newsman.

In addition to boosting pensions for the state's blind, the measure would declare ineligible those who possess $5,000 in personal property or real estate, or a combination of the two, and those who have an income of more than $1,716 a year.

The bill, sponsored by Sens. Charles R. Malley (R-Blair) and John J. McCreesh (D.-Philadelphia), is on second reading in the senate. Final passage is not expected until the legislature returns from a recess December 10. The bill then must be approved by the House and signed by Gov. John S. Fine.

"Dear King," it said. "Don't worry. Look what Mr. Price Thomas did for me. I am writing to tell you not to worry as I had a serious lung operation done by him. Now I am fit and well. He is a kind and clever man.

Baltimore Livestock

CATTLE — Today's fresh receipts of cattle were augmented by around 1,000 head held from earlier in the week. The supply consisted largely of grained on the grass and grass fat steers, including around 19 loads of slaughter offerings and 34 loads stocker cattle, but many loads of steers were suitable for two-way use. Quality generally was not as good as either last Monday or last Thursday. Balance of the run consisted mainly of cows and bulls.

Dealings in the slaughter steer department were rather slow but little net change was noted in the selling level compared with last Monday. An individual prime 1,130 pound steer topped the day's trade at $40. Bulk good and choice offerings, $34.50—35.75; a few commercial and good, $32.75; utility grade street, $27.

There was also little change in the price level for slaughter heifers.

Very uneven trade was noted in cow department. Trading was fairly active and and prices generally were fully steady with last Monday. Commercial cows formed a relatively small percentage of the total; sold mostly in a $28—30.50 price range. Odd head reached $31. Most utility cows, $24—27; canners and cutters $18.50—24; odd shelly canners down to $16 or below.

Bull department trading was slow but prices held mostly steady. Commercial grade sausage bulls merited $28—31 in most cases; utility kinds brought $25—27.50; cutters largely $22.50—24.50. Odd head very light canner grade dairybred bulls ranged to $21 or below.

Stock cattle followed the trend, on slaughter steers and sold generally steady in a rather slow trade.

Bulk of the run was made up of medium and good stockers, feeders and calves scaling 500-1,160 pounds that sold at $29—35. A few loads of mostly good 1,051-1,253 pound steers returned to the feedlot at $35.50—35.75.

Compared with last Thursday: Slaughter steers, heifers and bulls generally fully steady; cows unevenly steady to 50c. higher; stock calves steady to strong.

CALVES—A few prime vealers topped at $41, but most of the mixed lots of good to prime kinds brought $36—40. Commercial and good vealers ranged $30—36 and cull and utility kinds sold mostly in a range of $20—30. Odd head light culls down to $15 or under.

Compared with last Thursday: Generally stady to strong with most of the strength noted on choice and prime grades.

HOGS—A fairly active trade was noted in the hog department and prices were mostly in line with sales made on Wednesday. Choice 170-230 pound barrows and gilts bulked at $21.75—22.25, practical top $22.25. A few small lots of closely sorted around 185-200 pound weight to city butchers, $22.50. Heavierweights in the 240-260 pound averages, $21.25—21.75; few 260-300 pounds, $20—21.50. Over 300 pound averages were scarce but ranged downward from the $19.75 mark according to weight and condition. Lightweight offerings in the 120-140 pound bracket brought $18.50—19.25; 140-160 pounds, $20.50—21. Sows scaling less than 400 pounds sold largely at $18.50—19; 400-450 pounds, $17.50—18; over 450 pounds ranged $17 down according to condition and weight. Stags were discounted $2—3 from the price paid for the same weight sows in most cases.

Compared with last Thursday: Under 270 pound barrows and gilts and sows generally steady; others 25—50c. higher.

SHEEP—Hardly enough sheep were on offer to permit an accurate comparison of prices. Quotations remained nominally unchanged. A few small lots of good and choice 90-95 pound spring lambs cleared at $32—33, but top quotation for prime was around $34.50. Odd lots of culls ranged down to $25 or under. Odd head lots of good and choice shorn slaughter ewes brought $14—15.

TAX DEADLINE HERE ON MONDAY

Monday will be the day of reckoning for a number of borough residents That day will be the last day to pay county and borough taxes before the five percent penalty is slapped on and most of those who still have not paid their taxes will probably jam the tax collector's office between 9 a m. and 4 p m Monday to avoid the penalty

To date borough residents have paid $75,411 51 of the $83,122 42 tax bill they owe the borough and county The remainder still owe $7,720.91

County and borough taxes are at par during Monday as the last day for paying comes on Sunday Starting Tuesday the five percent penalty will be added. School taxes, on Tuesday, go up to par and those who pay off their school levy by Monday can save the usual two percent. The school taxes will be at par until December 1 when a five percent penalty is added.

So far borough residents have paid $60,794 68 of the current $79,042 59 in school taxation leaving $18,247 91 still to be paid to the tax collector

Weikert added that wage attachments will be placed on persons owing occupation taxes after October 2 and personal property tax sales will be instituted to collect occupation taxes on non-wage earners, according to the law concerning the non-payment of the taxes

He also said that the law requires the tax collector to bring suit against employers who fail to deduct taxes from wages of employes after an attachment has been issued by the tax collector

STATE COURT RULING CUTS OFF EXPENSES

Adams county's commissioners and many county commissioners throughout the state will lose their expenses as members of county institution districts for the period extending back to the middle of 1949, as a result of a decision of the state Superior court Wednesday at Philadelphia

Where other commissioners, however may have to do a lot of figuring to determine just where they stand in regard to what they accepted as their expenses for county institutional district work, the Adams county commissioners will merely be paying to the county an amount they set aside last March

Adams county's commissioners will repay $833.32 each to the county treasurer according to an agreement into which they entered with the county auditors in March when they learned that a court suit was pending on the constitutionality of Public Law 1359 permitting the expense account

Bradford Tested Law

When it was learned there was doubt on the constitutionality of the expense accounts, the commissioners refused to accept any additional expense money and determined the exact amount they had received up to that time. They had received $250 during 1949, $500 during 1950 and $83.32 for the first two months of 1951 They set aside that amount pending decision of the state court.

The case entered the courts when the auditors in Bradford county questioned the legality of the Bradford county commissioners accepting the lump sum expenses provided by the act of the 1949 state legislature

May Be Total Loss

The Bradford commissioners took the case to the courts and the Bradford county court held the law unconstitutional. The matter was then referred to the state Superior court, which handed down its decision Wednesday The court said the act "clearly, palpably and plainly violates the constitution" of Pennsylvania which prohibits "an increase in the salary or emoluments of a public officer during the term of office" to which he is elected. The court added that the constitutional provision "is inexorable and may not be avoided by indirection"

Loss of the lump sum expense account payment will probably mean that the Adams county commissioners will lose entirely the expenses they would otherwise have received during the more than two-year period. While the state Superior court ruling would permit an allowance for expenses during the period, the county commissioners are doubtful today if they could discover bills, etc, for their actual expenses during the period from the middle of 1949 through 1950 when they were operating under the lump sum procedure.

EXTENSION UNIT CONDUCTS PANEL ON THURSDAY

A panel discussion on "What Makes Us Tick?" featured the meeting Thursday evening of the Adams County Senior Extension club held at St Francis Xavier hall

Dr C R Gordon, of Pennsylvania State college, was moderator for the panel which included William Wilson, Myles Starner Roland Kime Nadine Baker Edwina Lawver and Harriet Geiselman

One of the questions was "How can we extend the facilities of our communities' organizations to those who need them most," with the group noting that "our recreational programs, our character training programs all seem to attract those who need them least, while the ones they are designed most to help are not reached"

Suggested Home Meetings

The discussion indicated a desire of youths for more participation by parents in various activities The suggestion was made that neighborhood groups should meet in the homes One panel member suggested. It almost seems like parents set up recreational organizations to get the children out of the house"

When one member of the panel asked, "Do parents tend to boss too long?" the group decided the question was unanswerable because "there are parents who boss too long and then there are parents who do not boss long enough."

Members of the club will participate in four parts of the annual show held in connection with the Farm Show at Harrisburg January 15

Farm Show Plans

According to a report by Kay Bucher and Fred Crouse, representatives of the county club to a state wide meeting in connection with the farm show, the local group will take part in a square dance, a dance entitled "Makin' Down Out,' in a dance entitled "Sparkin" and in the finale in which the members of the cast will form themselves into the outline of the word "Pennsylvania." Members are asked to obtain umbrella forms for the "Makin' Down Out" dance.

The group voted in favor of regular bowling parties throughout the winter season, and also suggested that a number of skating parties be held during the winter. Roland Kime was appointed by President Thomas Murren as sports director to make arrangements for the various affairs.

Plans were outlined for a hayride October 11. The committee comprises Wilmer Stoner, Mary Kathryn Lawrence and Harriet Geiselman

The next meeting will be held in the form of a Halloween party October 25 at the home of Helen Mummert, East Berlin

Plans were also announced for a dance to be held in November to which former members of the organization will be invited

Argentina Reports Revolt Of 2 Generals Squelched

Buenos Aires, Argentina, Sept. 28 (AP)—The official state radio announced today a revolt was staged by two former army generals against the government of Juan D Peron and was swiftly put down

The radio a short time after announcing civil war had broken out in Argentina, declared the government quelled the rising headed by former Gen Arturo Rawson and former Gen Benjamin Menendez Rawson was a leader of a 1943 rebellion which placed him in the presidency just two days

There was no information available from other sources The capital has been closed down tightly, with business establishments shuttered There were many rumors of troop movements, but these, too, could not be confirmed.

No fighting was observed in the streets of Buenos Aires except for sporadic fist fights But a large crowd was pouring into the Plaza de Mayo in front of Peron's offices, shouting "La Vida por Peron" (our lives for Peron)

(In Washington observers close to Argentine affairs said the revolution may have been a bona fide one but could have been a staged affair to whip up sentiment for Peron in the forthcoming November 11 elections in which he is a candidate to succeed himself However there have been many reports of army dissatisfaction with the regime)

Rawson overthrew the government of President Ramon S Castillo in 1943, and was president for two days before he was ousted

Rawson was arrested ousted from the army and sent to prison for six months on a charge of being involved in a short-lived revolt of the Cordoba garrison in September, 1945

FIREMEN HOLD WATER BATTLE

Two score members of the Gettysburg fire department took a soaking in a water battle staged Thursday evening at South Washington and Breckenridge streets

There were actually two battles The team "captained" by Paul Anzengruber won the first, when it defeated Billy Shealer's nozzlemen, while in the second, Second Assistant Chief Donald Staub's team vanquished First Assistant Chief Donald McSherry's outfit

Helmets were knocked off by the streams of water and rubber coats and boots were no proof against a wetting Two streams from the fire department's new Mack pumper were used, from a hydrant at the southwest corner of the two streets

Several spectators who crowded too close to see the fun also got sprinkled

ENLARGE FIRE HOUSE TO CARE FOR ALL TRUCKS

The Gettysburg Fire department, which has one of the most completely equipped departments for a town of anywhere near its size in the United States, will soon have all of its apparatus under one roof

Workmen today completed removing part of a rear wall at the fire engine house on East Middle street so that the aerial ladder truck can be moved farther back to make room for a pumper in front of it

With the new Mack 750-gallon combination pumper, the fire department now has four pumps, a service truck and the ladder truck, which has a 65-foot extension ladder equipped with a nozzle at the top.

Add Booster Tank

One of the pumpers is in the paint shop at the present time but will be returned to duty shortly Its ladder racks were removed, and a 450-gallon booster tank installed prior to the re-painting It will be used for all farm fires and will also be available for fires in the borough.

Knocking out of the rear wall was accomplished by removing the old borough lockup cell blocks The work was done by Morris Gitlin. Work on the wall was done by McDermitt brothers.

Equipment carried by the service truck includes emergency lights, a gasoline-powered generating plant, portable pump, iron lung and resuscitator The department also has equipment for fighting brush and forest fires, as well as modern equipment for all other types of blazes

Personnel of the fire department numbers approximately 125 men. Burgess William G Weaver is president, and Donald G. Jacobs fire chief.

The Red Cross wired its national home service headquarters for information and found that Becker never had been listed as a casualty While the Red Cross was trying new channels for information on Cpl Becker, Mr Becker was notified his son had been admitted at the Camp Pickett hospital on Tuesday and that he was receiving treatment there for a fractured arm

General Bradley In Tokyo; May Map Full Scale War If Cease-Fire Talks Collapse; Reds Launch Sharp Attacks

Tokyo, Sept. 28 (AP)—Gen Omar Bradley arrived tonight, possibly to map strategy if the Korean truce talks collapse completely and full-scale fighting erupts.

Bradley's plane arrived at nearby Haneda airport at 9 30 p.m (7 30 a m, EST) The chairman of the U S joint chiefs of staff was accompanied by Charles Bohlen, State Department expert on Russia

The Defense Department in Washington said Bradley would "survey all aspects of the situation" with Gen Matthew P Ridgway, supreme Allied commander

Urges New Meeting Place

Ridgway yesterday suggested a switch in the truce talk site in an effort to revive the stalled armistice talks

Peiping radio treated Ridgway's proposal with rough language.

The Chinese and North Koreans have not answered Ridgway's suggestion Thursday for getting the bogged down parley going again. He wanted the conference site switched from Kaesong behind Red lines, to the Songhyon area in no-man's-land The village is six miles southeast of Kaesong

Observers said this could be Ridgway's last compromise proposal.

New Red Attacks

U.S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Sept. 28 (AP) — Communist forces launched a series of sharp attacks last night at widely scattered points across 50 miles of the Korean battle front

Behind the lines, they rolled a mass of men and supplies toward the front along all the major north-south roads across the waist of the Korean peninsula

They took advantage of a moonless night. But Allied planes converged on the main arteries and the U.S Fifth Air Force said its pilots destroyed 508 Communist vehicles and damaged 613—a record. The old mark was 964, set Wednesday.

Attack 1,700 Trucks

The roving airmen attacked more than 1,700 trucks from dusk Thursday to dawn Friday, the Fifth Air Force said.

The tempo of Communist troop and transport activity sharpened as efforts to revive the stalled truce talks reached a virtual standstill

The Communist forces threw their sharpest attacks in the Yonchon and Chorwon sectors near western Korea's iron triangle, and in the east-central area at Heartbreak Ridge and the Punchbowl heights.

The Reds lobbed artillery and motar shells throughout Thursday night at Allied infantrymen dug in just below the crest of Heartbreak, a hill mass north of Yanggu.

Other Red troops attacked American and South Korean troops holding a hill west of the ridge. They had captured it only Tuesday. The fight raged on into the morning.

It appeared that the Reds were trying to cut off advance Allied units both in the east and west.

REELING BUMS IN TIGHT SPOT AGAINST PHILS

By ED CORRIGAN

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

With the Brooklyn Dodgers clinging to an end-of-the-branch half game lead over the New York Giants in the torrid National league pennant race, Brook Manager Charlie Dressen today found himself in a mighty ticklish situation, indeed.

The prides of the Gowanus reeled into Philadelphia for tonight's game with the Phillies with this situation facing them:

In order to insure themselves the pennant they must sweep all three games with the Phils over the week-end, assuming of course the New York Giants win both their remaining contests with the Boston Braves in beantown starting tomorrow.

But . . .

If they lose one and the Giants win two, the race will end in a deadlock, and if they lose two and the Giants win two—woosh, it will be wait-till-next-year. So from the Giants' view, the Durochermen must win their two games with the Braves and hope for an assist from the Phils.

Hurlers Selected

After Brooklyn's ace Preacher Roe failed yesterday, absorbing a 4-3 defeat at the hands of the Braves, Dressen planned to send Carl Erskine (16-11) against the Phils in the opener. Following him, it could be Don Newcombe and Roe again on Sunday.

Phil Manager Eddie Sawyer will send Karl Drews, an ex-New York Yankee, against the Dodgers in the opener, then follow with Robin Roberts and Bubba Church.

As for the American league, the New York Yankees are in a position to breathe a little easier, what with their 2½ game bulge over the Cleveland Indians. The Yanks, in fact, can clinch the pennant today if they whip the Boston Red Sox in a doubleheader.

The magic number remains two for the Yanks—any combination of two New York triumphs or two Indian losses. The Tribe has two games to play, the Yanks five.

The Red Sox apparently cracked wide open, losing all three games to the seventh-place Senators in the current series. They now are six games back with five to play. Chuck Stobbs was the victim and Al Sima the winner in yesterday's affair.

Rookie Duke Markell hung up his first major league triumph as the tail-end St. Louis Browns stopped the Detroit Tigers, 7-4, in the only other major league game of the day.

DENY ROBINSON KICKED DOOR OF UMPIRES' ROOM

By JOE REICHLER

Boston, Sept. 28 (AP) — Did Jackie Robinson, fiery Brooklyn second baseman, pound and kick the locked door of the umpires' dressing room in a violent rage following the Dodgers' hotly disputed 4-3 loss to the Boston Braves yesterday?

"No," shouted Robinson. "Anybody who says I did is a damned liar."

Did any of the Dodgers assault the barred door, cracking two of its panels, before the arrival of five special policemen to help the regular guard?

"Yes," admitted Robinson. "I know who did it but I'm not saying who."

"I know who did it, too," echoed Brooklyn pitching ace Preacher Roe, victim of the heart-breaking loss that pared the Dodgers' first place lead over the New York Giants to a half game.

"But it wasn't Jackie," added the Preacher. "I'll take an oath on that."

"I don't know who damaged the umpire's door," another Dodger said, refusing to be identified. "But quite a few of our boys either kicked or pounded it on their way to our dressing room."

Earlier, one of the special policemen had reported that it was Robinson who had done the kicking and pounding.

Always Get Blame

"Whenever I'm in a crowd and something happens," complained the brilliant Brooklyn infielder, "right away it's me."

Photographs taken of the abused door showed clearly two cracks in the panels, one on the upper half of the door, and the other on the lower half.

Ford Frick, president of the National league, said in New York he had talked by telephone with two of the four umpires who had worked the game and neither had mentioned an assault on the officials' door.

"I talked with both Frank Dascoli and Bill Stewart," said Frick, "and they said nothing about Jackie Robinson or any other player kicking in the umpire's door.

"I expect, however," he added, "that part of the report, if true, will be in my hands soon."

The hectic under-the stands scene came as a result of the ejection of Brooklyn catcher Roy Campanella by plate Umpire Dascoli. Campanella had objected violently when Dascoli ruled Bob Addis slid home safely with the run that snapped a 3-3 tie in the eighth to give Boston its dramatic victory.

"Campanella didn't touch Addis until his feet crossed the plate," said Dascoli, explaining the play that caused one of the most uproarious rhubarbs of the year.

Automatically Ejected

Campanella explained that his eviction was not caused by his language.

"I didn't cuss him and I didn't touch him," Roy said. "I only asked how that man could score when I had the plate blocked."

Dascoli verfied the Campanella claim that neither his ears nor the rest of his person had been offended.

"He threw his glove on the ground," said Dascoli. "Under the rules he was automatically out of the game."

CALIFORNIA TO BEAT PENN; SEE ARMY'S DEFEAT

New York, Sept. 28 (AP)—Pushing those hot baseball pennant races aside for a moment to pick the winners in this week-end's football fracases:

California over Penn: The Quakers supposedly are either the best or second best in the east but you can't overlook what California did to Santa Clara last week. The Bears trounced the Broncs, 34 to 0.

Notre Dame over Indiana: Indiana is loaded but the Irish don't make a practice of losing their opening games, especially when they are player at home.

Tennessee over Mississippi State: You may have forgotten that Mississippi State spilled Tennessee in their opener a year ago, 7 to 0, but Coach Bob Neyland hasn't let his players forget. And Tennessee is rated the country's best.

Army To Lose

Villanova over Army: The Army remnants lack a defense. They'll score but Villanova will score more.

Yale over Navy: Bob Spears, Yale fullback and captain, loves to run over people. He'll get plenty of chances against the Middies.

Washington over Minnesota: Coaches Odell of Washington and Fesler of Minnesota are the closest of friends but only Odell will be smiling after the game. Hugh McElhenny to be the star.

Kentucky over Mississsippi: Too much Parilli for Ole Miss.

SMU To Lose

Ohio State over Southern Methodist: Even the coach of SMU says his team will lose by three touchdowns. Why should there be disagreement?

Alabama over Louisiana State: LSU tabs its veteran backfield as the "Four Workmen." Their job is cut out for them against one of the south's top lines.

Michigan State over Michigan: Michigan State defeated Oregon State last Saturday but it really opens both its season and offense against the Wolverines.

Maryland over Washington and Lee: The team that was the 1950 Southern Conference champion gets trampled by the team that may be the 1951 king.

Other Selections

Texas over Purdue: That rugged battle with Kentucky last week showed Texas all its weak spots.

Oklahoma over William and Mary: Mr. Vessels is quite a vessel when it comes to carrying points across the goal line.

Finishing the others in a hurry: Bucknell over Muhlenberg, Colgate over Buffalo, Cornell over Syracuse, Duke over Pittsburgh, Fordham over Dartmouth, Holy Cross over Harvard, Penn State over Boston University, Princeton over New York, Rutgers over Lafayette, Temple over Brown.

Cincinnati Reds Get New Manager

Cincinnati, Sept. 28 (AP)—Gabriel Howard Paul, who worked himself up from a batboy, took over the general managership of the Cincinnati Reds last night and said he would trade every man on the roster if it will help win ball games.

The 41-year-old former Reds vice president, who succeeds Warren Giles, declared the floundering Reds are going to win more games next season than any club in recent years.

The optimistic statements came after Powel Crosley, chairman of the board of the Cincinnati ball club, named "Gabe" Paul to fill the vacancy caused several hours earlier when Giles accepted the presidency of the National league. Terms of Paul's contract and salary were not disclosed.

Paul's first official act was to announce Luke Sewell will be retained as manager for the 1952 season. There had been rumors Sewell might be out because of the Reds' hapless season, in which they've lost 85 games and won only 66 to date.

Veteran Western Maryland Team Will Prove Test For Bullets In Game Here Saturday At 2 O'clock

There seems to be little doubt that the Gettysburg college football team will be in for a busy afternoon when it inaugurates its home season against Western Maryland Saturday at 2 o'clock in the opening feature of festivities honoring Coach "Hen" Bream who is in his 25th season as Bullet mentor.

Western Maryland has a big, veteran team which has supreme confidence in its ability to halt the Bullets. The Terrors make no secret of having pointed for the Bullets, regarding the locals as the toughest opponent on their schedule.

During the past week Coaches Bream, Yovicsin, Shainline and Lentz concentrated on developing a stronger offense. They feel that the experience gained by their young team against Bucknell will begin to pay dividends this week. Many of the Bullet performers took part in their first collegiate game last week.

"Ready To Go"

In commenting on Saturday's game Coach Bream said, "We realize that Western Maryland will be a powerful defensive team but feel that our boys are ready to go. The squad is in good all-around condition and we have begun to look like a team. I expect a very hard game."

Offensive and defensive teams were listed as probable starters today by the Bullet mentor. The offensive unit will be composed of Walt Hemberger and either Gene Coder or Danny Ebbert, ends; Bob Hurley and Bob Dickson, tackles; Ronnie Miller and Jack Harford, guards; Phil Dolson, center; Berky Ward, Joe Ujobai, Don Holland and Vince Rossetti, backs.

The defensive outfit will include Bill Vignola and George Pence, ends; Bob Dellabough and Dickson, tackles; Bill Ewing and Miller, guards; Dolson, center; Howard Pettit, Joe Day, Tom Kostalac and Earl Yost, backs.

Terror Line Heavy

Topping the lists of backs who are listed for plenty of duty are Tony Natale, Gene Powell and John Cagiano.

Western Maryland's forward wall will average about 193 pounds, Jack Duhl, 6-1 freshman, who tips the beams at 215 pounds, being the biggest man.

Harlow Henderson, veteran back, is scheduled to do a lot of passing against the Bullets.

A big opening day throng is anticipated. Hundreds of Terror students and fans will accompany their team here while the "Hen Bream Day" activities will attract an unusually large number of former players and alumni to the contest.

Boiling Springs Hi Cops 4th Straight

Boiling Springs' high school's undefeated football team romped to a 40-7 victory Thursday evening over Enola for its fourth straight triumph of the season.

Waynesboro Golfers Play Here Sunday

The Gettysburg Country club golfers will meet the Waynesboro team in a match on the local links Sunday.

Between 25 and 40 golfers are expected to come here from Waynesboro and more golfers are needed by the Gettysburg team. Henry T. Bream, local club golf chairman, asks those willing to participate to sign at the clubhouse by Saturday evening.

REELING BUMS IN TIGHT SPOT AGAINST PHILS

By ED CORRIGAN

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

With the Brooklyn Dodgers clinging to an end-of-the-branch half game lead over the New York Giants in the torrid National league pennant race, Brook Manager Charlie Dressen today found himself in a mighty ticklish situation, indeed

The prides of the Gowanus reeled into Philadelphia for tonight's game with the Phillies with this situation facing them.

In order to insure themselves the pennant they must sweep all three games with the Phils over the weekend, assuming of course the New York Giants win both their remaining contests with the Boston Braves in beantown starting tomorrow.

But

If they lose one and the Giants win two, the race will end in a deadlock, and if they lose two and the Giants win two—woosh, it will be wait-till-next-year So from the Giants' view, the Durochermen must win their two games with the Braves and hope for an assist from the Phils.

Hurlers Selected

After Brooklyn's ace Preacher Roe failed yesterday, absorbing a 4-3 defeat at the hands of the Braves, Dressen planned to send Carl Erskine (16-11) against the Phils in the opener. Following him, it could be Don Newcombe and Roe again on Sunday.

Phil Manager Eddie Sawyer will send Karl Drews, an ex-New York Yankee, against the Dodgers in the opener, then follow with Robin Roberts and Bubba Church.

As for the American league, the New York Yankees are in a position to breathe a little easier, what with their 2½ game bulge over the Cleveland Indians The Yanks, in fact, can clinch the pennant today if they whip the Boston Red Sox in a doubleheader

The magic number remains two for the Yanks—any combination of two New York triumphs or two Indian losses. The Tribe has two games to play, the Yanks five.

The Red Sox apparently cracked wide open, losing all three games to the seventh-place Senators in the current series They now are six games back with five to play. Chuck Stobbs was the victim and Al Sima the winner in yesterday's affair.

Rookie Duke Markell hung up his first major league triumph as the tail-end St. Louis Browns stopped the Detroit Tigers, 7-4, in the only other major league game of the day.

DENY ROBINSON KICKED DOOR OF UMPIRES' ROOM

By JOE REICHLER

Boston, Sept. 28 (AP) — Did Jackie Robinson, fiery Brooklyn second baseman, pound and kick the locked door of the umpires' dressing room in a violent rage following the Dodgers' hotly disputed 4-3 loss to the Boston Braves yesterday?

"No," shouted Robinson. "Anybody who says I did is a damned liar."

Did any of the Dodgers assault the barred door, cracking two of its panels, before the arrival of five special policemen to help the regular guard?

"Yes," admitted Robinson. "I know who did it but I'm not saying who."

"I know who did it, too," echoed Brooklyn pitching ace Preacher Roe, victim of the heart-breaking loss that pared the Dodgers' first place lead over the New York Giants to a half game.

"But it wasn't Jackie," added the Preacher. "I'll take an oath on that"

"I don't know who damaged the umpire's door," another Dodger said, refusing to be identified. "But quite a few of our boys either kicked or pounded it on their way to our dressing room."

Earlier, one of the special policemen had reported that it was Robinson who had done the kicking and pounding.

Always Get Blame

"Whenever I'm in a crowd and something happens," complained the brilliant Brooklyn infielder, "right away it's me."

Photographs taken of the abused door showed clearly two cracks in the panels, one on the upper half of the door, and the other on the lower half

Ford Frick, president of the National league, said in New York he had talked by telephone with two of the four umpires who had worked the game and neither had mentioned an assault on the officials' door.

"I talked with both Frank Dascoli and Bill Stewart," said Frick, "and they said nothing about Jackie Robinson or any other player kicking in the umpire's door.

"I expect, however," he added, "that part of the report, if true, will be in my hands soon."

The hectic under-the stands scene came as a result of the ejection of Brooklyn catcher Roy Campanella by plate Umpire Dascoli. Campanella had objected violently when Dascoli ruled Bob Addis slid home safely with the run that snapped a 3-3 tie in the eighth to give Boston its dramatic victory.

"Campanella didn't touch Addis until his feet crossed the plate," said Dascoli, explaining the play that caused one of the most uproarious rhubarbs of the year.

Automatically Ejected

Campanella explained that his eviction was not caused by his language.

"I didn't cuss him and I didn't touch him," Roy said. "I only asked how that man could score when I had the plate blocked"

Dascoli verfied the Campanella claim that neither his ears nor the rest of his person had been offended.

"He threw his glove on the ground," said Dascoli. "Under the rules he was automatically out of the game."

CALIFORNIA TO BEAT PENN; SEE ARMY'S DEFEAT

New York, Sept. 28 (AP)—Pushing those hot baseball pennant races aside for a moment to pick the winners in this week-end's football fracases:

California over Penn The Quakers supposedly are either the best or second best in the east but you can't overlook what California did to Santa Clara last week The Bears trounced the Broncs, 34 to 0

Notre Dame over Indiana: Indiana is loaded but the Irish don't make a practice of losing their opening games, especially when they are player at home.

Tennessee over Mississippi State: You may have forgotten that Mississippi State spilled Tennessee in their opener a year ago, 7 to 0, but Coach Bob Neyland hasn't let his players forget. And Tennessee is rated the country's best.

Army To Lose

Villanova over Army: The Army remnants lack a defense. They'll score but Villanova will score more.

Yale over Navy. Bob Spears, Yale fullback and captain, loves to run over people. He'll get plenty of chances against the Middies.

Washington over Minnesota: Coaches Odell of Washington and Fesler of Minnesota are the closest of friends but only Odell will be smiling after the game. Hugh McElhenny to be the star.

Kentucky over Mississippi: Too much Parilli for Ole Miss.

SMU To Lose

Ohio State over Southern Methodist: Even the coach of SMU says his team will lose by three touchdowns. Why should there be disagreement?

Alabama over Louisiana State: LSU tabs its veteran backfield as the "Four Workmen." Their job is cut out for them against one of the south's top lines.

Michigan State over Michigan: Michigan State defeated Oregon State last Saturday but it really opens both its season and offense against the Wolverines.

Maryland over Washington and Lee: The team that was the 1950 Southern Conference champion gets trampled by the team that may be the 1951 king.

Other Selections

Texas over Purdue: That rugged battle with Kentucky last week showed Texas all its weak spots.

Oklahoma over William and Mary: Mr. Vessels is quite a vessel when it comes to carrying points across the goal line.

Finishing the others in a hurry: Bucknell over Muhlenberg, Colgate over Buffalo, Cornell over Syracuse, Duke over Pittsburgh, Fordham over Dartmouth, Holy Cross over Harvard, Penn State over Boston University, Princeton over New York, Rutgers over Lafayette, Temple over Brown.

Cincinnati Reds Get New Manager

Cincinnati, Sept. 28 (AP)—Gabriel Howard Paul, who worked himself up from a batboy, took over the general managership of the Cincinnati Reds last night and said he would trade every man on the roster if it will help win ball games.

The 41-year-old former Reds vice president, who succeeds Warren Giles, declared the floundering Reds are going to win more games next season than any club in recent years.

The optimistic statements came after Powel Crosley, chairman of the board of the Cincinnati ball club, named "Gabe" Paul to fill the vacancy caused several hours earlier when Giles accepted the presidency of the National league. Terms of Paul's contract and salary were not disclosed

Paul's first official act was to announce Luke Sewell will be retained as manager for the 1952 season. There had been rumors Sewell might be out because of the Reds' hapless season, in which they've lost 85 games and won only 66 to date.

Veteran Western Maryland Team Will Prove Test For Bullets In Game Here Saturday At 2 O'clock

There seems to be little doubt that the Gettysburg college football team will be in for a busy afternoon when it inaugurates its home season against Western Maryland Saturday at 2 o'clock in the opening feature of festivities honoring Coach "Hen" Bream who is in his 25th season as Bullet mentor.

Western Maryland has a big, veteran team which has supreme confidence in its ability to halt the Bullets The Terrors make no secret of having pointed for the Bullets, regarding the locals as the toughest opponent on their schedule.

During the past week Coaches Bream, Yovicsin, Shainline and Lentz concentrated on developing a stronger offense. They feel that the experience gained by their young team against Bucknell will begin to pay dividends this week. Many of the Bullet performers took part in their first collegiate game last week.

"Ready To Go"

In commenting on Saturday's game Coach Bream said, "We realize that Western Maryland will be a powerful defensive team but feel that our boys are ready to go. The squad is in good all-around condition and we have begun to look like a team. I expect a very hard game"

Offensive and defensive teams were listed as probable starters today by the Bullet mentor. The offensive unit will be composed of Walt Hemberger and either Gene Coder or Danny Ebbert, ends; Bob Hurley and Bob Dickson, tackles; Ronnie Miller and Jack Harford, guards; Phil Dolson, center; Berky Ward, Joe Ujobai, Don Holland and Vince Rossetti, backs.

The defensive outfit will include Bill Vignola and George Pence, ends; Bob Dellabough and Dickson, tackles; Bill Ewing and Miller, guards; Dolson, center; Howard Pettit, Joe Day, Tom Kostalac and Earl Yost, backs

Terror Line Heavy

Topping the lists of backs who are listed for plenty of duty are Tony Natale, Gene Powell and John Cagiano.

Western Maryland's forward wall will average about 193 pounds, Jack Duhl, 6-1 freshman, who tips the beams at 215 pounds, being the biggest man.

Harlow Henderson, veteran back, is scheduled to do a lot of passing against the Bullets.

A big opening day throng is anticipated. Hundreds of Terror students and fans will accompany their team here while the "Hen Bream Day" activities will attract an unusually large number of former players and alumni to the contest.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

SEPTEMBER'S LEAVES

Nature is always celebrating. In the springtime there are the buds and blooms, life coming to the carpet of the earth, and there is fragrance, and singing of the birds, and the leafing of trees, shrubs and flowers. It is the birth time of the year, with newness all about.

Then it is that summer's warmth and maturity are at their height, and all outdoors is the playground of every one of us. Recreation and the enjoyment of the gifts of nature are ours and we can select what we will. The glorious sunshine is health-giving and we are renewed for the autumn and winter days ahead.

To the days of September and October, however, we must look for color and the gala celebrations of the year. It is then that September leaves begin to turn, later to fall gently to the earth, there to be melted into the soil to nourish future leaves and growth. You see, nature keeps changing, losing nothing. Outside my window the dogwood and maples are already trying on their autumn gowns, and exquisite in color they are! Trees have enriched the thoughts of human beings, blessed the birds that built within their shade and protection, and given coolness to both beast and man. The very stir of the falling leaves that rustle in the streets whisper notes of eternity into our listening ears.

The poet spoke of the autumn days as the melancholy ones — "the saddest of the year," but to me they seem the most glorious for they are full of beauty and achievement.

How universal are these months of September and October — brightening the earth and thrilling us all into an ecstasy of appreciation for "what God hath wrought!" How strange if we never had these months to give us cheer and hope. How thankful they make us feel for life itself! How they scatter their peacesfulness and their very stir is evidence of their animate joy. These are the festival months of the entire year—harbingers of happiness!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Luggage."

HORSE SENSE

A race horse said: "On me
How foolish men must be
To gamble their careers,
And jail for five long years.

"Upon my final stride
To wager family pride;
Honor and trust to place
On me to win a race.

"Since it's the gambler's trade
Of money bets are made,
But some, at cruel cost,
Have bet their homes, and lost.

"I am a horse, well bred,
But when some men are led
To steal to bet on me
How foolish they must be."

Carle Talks To 4,000 At Rally Of Democrats: Enthusiastic endorsement of President Roosevelt and his policies was given Saturday afternoon by a corps of speakers headed by Governor George H. HARRY GROSS GETS 12 YEARS

New York, Sept. 28 (AP)—Bookie Harry Gross, sentenced to 12 years in prison for operating a $20,000,000-a-year gambling ring, still faces an additional 10-year jail term for contempt stemming from the police graft trial.

The 35-year-old bookie sat glum and silent yesterday as he heard himself sentenced in special sessions court to serve one year each, running consecutively, on 12 counts of a 66-count indictement charging gambling and conspiracy.

Sentence was suspended on the other 54 counts, and there was no fine. Maximum sentence would have been 68 years in jail and $34,000 in fines.

The bookie still faces other prison terms. At the collapse of the recent police trial Judge Leibowitz sentenced Gross to five years and a $15,000 fine for contempt.

On Wednesday, the grand jury indicted Gross on charges of criminal contempt, which carry a 10-year maximum jail term and a $10,000 fine on conviction. The jury's indictement supersedes Judge Leibowitz' penalty.

Gross' attorney, Michael Kern, said he would appeal yesterday's sentence immediately.

Emmitsburg Fire Company Called

A fire of undetermined origin totally destroyed the sliding board and structure that housed it at 9 o'clock Thursday morning at the Mt. Tabor Park, Rocky Ridge, and firemen from Rocky Ridge, Thurmont and Emmitsburg fought the stubborn blaze for several hours to keep it from spreading to other weatherboard buildings and trees located in the park built in a heavily wooded area.

The fire loss was determined at $5,000, according to Leon Stover, chief of the Rocky Ridge fire company, who had conferred with authorities on the damage.

Three-Game Playoff If Tie In National

New York, Sept. 28 (AP) — If the National league race ends in a tie between the Brooklyn Dodgers and the New York Giants, a playoff will begin at Ebbets Field on Monday.

The second and third, if necessary, games of the best of three series would be played at the Polo Grounds on Tuesday and Wednesday.

BULLETINS

Washington, Sept. 28 (AP)—Senator Benton (D.-Conn.) today accused Senator McCarthy (R.-Wis.) of "perjury and deception of the American people" in pressing his Communists-in-government charges. Benton made the accusation under oath at a public hearing on his resolution looking toward the possibility of ousting McCarthy from the Senate.

He said his testimony would help a Senate Rules subcommittee decide whether McCarthy "has committed perjury and whether he has practiced calculated deceit on both the U. S. Senate and the American people."

Washington, Sept. 28 (AP)—President Truman said today he would support a proposal for Canada to build the St. Lawrence seaway if the project can not be started soon as a joint U. S.-Canadian development. The President's position was made known in a joint statement after a conference at which Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent presented Canada's program.

London, Sept. 28 (AP)—Britain may ask the United Nations Security Council to intervene in the tense Anglo-Iranian oil dispute, informed sources said today. The cabinet met on the oil crisis for the third time this week, as this country waited developments in the Middle East country which has ordered British oil men at Abadan expelled by next Thursday.

Washington, Sept. 28 (AP)—A newspaper reporter was invited today to tell senators the basis for his accusations that Democratic National Chairman William M. Boyle, Jr., received $8,000 from a client who got a big government loan.

The reporter is Theodore Link of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, whose articles prompted the senate inquiry into Boyle's connections with American Lithofold corporation, St. Louis printing firm. Link is slated as the last witness in this 13th day of the inquiry.

In addition to boosting pensions for the state's blind, the measure would declare ineligible those who possess $5,000 in personal property or real estate, or a combination of the two, and those who have an income of more than $1,716 a year.

The bill, sponsored by Sens. Charles R. Malley (R-Blair) and John J. McCreesh (D-Philadelphia), is on second reading in the senate. Final passage is not expected until the legislature returns from a recess December 10. The bill then must be approved by the House and signed by Gov. John S. Fine.

KING MAKING MORE PROGRESS

London, Sept. 28 (AP)—King George spent another comfortable night and maintained steady progress, a medical bulletin said today.

It was the second optimistic bulletin in a row from the doctors who handled the king's critical lung operation Sunday.

The bulletin, the ninth since the operation, said:

"The king has had another comfortable night and is making steady progress."

Barring unforeseen complications, the king is now nearly out of danger, some medical specialists indicated today. A number of Buckingham palace actions tend to back up their belief.

According to one source in Harley street—London's street of doctors—the worst of King George's recovery period should be over within 24 hours.

Yesterday the king came safely through the critical fifth day since all or part of his lung was cut out. Buckingham palace sources said Thursday marked the start of a second danger period of two or three days. Doctors say internal bleeding and fatique could set in during this phase.

San Francisco, Sept. 28 (AP) — The impact of television on newspapers was brought under close scrutiny by 260 American editors Thursday. A report to the Associated Press Managing Editors Association by a committee headed by Lee Hills of the Miami Herald concluded "the red light in TV for newspapers was a warning against dullness." Hills considered it a challenge to newspapers to be creative and "to take full advantage of the unique medium that we have."

Tax Consultant Is Guilty Of Fraud

Erie, Pa., Sept. 28 (AP) — A federal court jury today found Sheldon Wolfe, former Meadville (Pa.) tax consultant, guilty on 32 of 38 charges of fraudulently preparing income tax returns. The verdict was returned at 3:50 a.m. (EST), more than 12 hours after the jurors had received the case.

Wolfe is subject to a maximum sentence of five years in prison and a $5,000 fine on each count.

The government charged Wolfe made false deductions on 41 income tax reports for clients and caused the government to lose some $150,000 in tax money. Three of the 41 charges were dropped during the trial.

Wolfe flatly denied that he filed fraudulent returns. He testified that all entries he made on the income tax sheets were with the full knowledge of his clients. However, nearly 40 witnesses testified they gave Wolfe the information for their returns—then signed blank forms for him to prepare.

YOUNG MOTHER, CHILDREN BURN

Oil City, Pa., Sept. 28 (AP)—A 22-year-old woman and her two small children burned to death today in their farm home in Cranberry township about nine miles east of Oil City. The victims: Mrs. Kenneth Bush, her son, Kenneth, Jr., 2½ years old, and daughter, Catherine, seven weeks.

Mrs. Bush's husband was working the night shift at the Oil Well Supply company at Oil City when the fire broke out.

Clair Moon, a neighbor returning home from work, discovered the blaze about 5:30 a.m. (EST).

Moon said the roof of the small home was burned completely off. Failing to rouse other neighbors, he drove to nearby Seneca to notify the Seneca Volunteer Fire department. By the time firemen arrived the one-story house was burned to the ground.

Firemen, who found the charred bodies in the ruins, said cause of the blaze can't be determined. They added it was possible an oil burner either overheated or exploded.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 28 (AP)—Three runaway railroad cars raced four miles downgrade at a better than mile-a-minute clip Thursday before smashing into a string of empty cars with a roaring crash that shook the ground for blocks around. No one was injured.

The gondolas, two loaded with coal and one with sand, ripped up Lehigh Valley railroad branch line tracks for 150 feet and destroyed four of the empty cars before coming to a stop 100 feet east of the heavily-traveled Route 309 grade crossing at Beaver Meadows, four miles south of Hazleton.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

SEPTEMBER'S LEAVES

Nature is always celebrating In the springtime there are the buds and blooms, life coming to the carpet of the earth, and there is fragrance, and singing of the birds, and the leafing of trees, shrubs and flowers It is the birth time of the year, with newness all about

Then it is that summer's warmth and maturity are at their height, and all outdoors is the playground of every one of us Recreation and the enjoyment of the gifts of nature are ours and we can select what we will The glorious sunshine is health-giving and we are renewed for the autumn and winter days ahead

To the days of September and October, however, we must look for color and the gala celebrations of the year It is then that September leaves begin to turn, later to fall gently to the earth, there to be melted into the soil to nourish future leaves and growth. You see, nature keeps changing, losing nothing Outside my window the dogwood and maples are already trying on their autumn gowns, and exquisite in color they are! Trees have enriched the thoughts of human beings, blessed the birds that built within their shade and protection, and given coolness to both beast and man The very stir of the falling leaves that rustle in the streets whisper notes of eternity into our listening ears

The poet spoke of the autumn days as the melancholy ones — "the saddest of the year," but to me they seem the most glorious for they are full of beauty and achievement

How universal are these months of September and October — brightening the earth and thrilling us all into an ecstasy of appreciation for "what God hath wrought!" How strange if we never had these months to give us cheer and hope How thankful they make us feel for life itself! How they scatter their peacefulness and their very stir is evidence of their animate joy. These are the festival months of the entire year—harbingers of happiness!

Tomorrow Mr Adams will talk on the subject: "Luggage"

HORSE SENSE

A race horse said: "On me
How foolish men must be
To gamble their careers,
And jail for five long years.

"Upon my final stride
To wager family pride;
Honor and trust to place
On me to win a race.

"Since it's the gambler's trade
Of money bets are made,
But some, at cruel cost,
Have bet their homes, and lost.

"I am a horse, well bred.
But when some men are led
To steal to bet on me
How foolish they must be."

The Youth Fellowship of Zwingli church will meet Sunday evening at 5 o'clock to begin the fall and winter series of meetings with Elmer Meissner, assistant to the minister. The meeting will be held on the church lawn and will open with a wiener roast. All youth of the church are invited to attend. Rev. and Mrs. Alton M. Leister will be hosts.

Three women's organizations will meet as follows: St. John, New Chester Mite society, Monday at 7:30 p.m.; Zwingli, East Berlin Mite society, Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.; and Emmanuel, Hampton Aid society, Thursday at 8 p.m. The Senior and Junior choirs of Emmanuel church will meet for a combined rehearsal with the new hymnals Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

The ladies of the St. John's church will serve a chicken and waffle supper in the church hall Saturday evening, October 6. The members of Zwingli church will serve a baked ham supper Saturday evening, October 13.

The annual Rally day will be held in Zwingli church Sunday, October 21, at 10:15 a.m. Claude O. Meckley of Hanover will speak. The homecoming service will be held at 7:00 p.m. Rev. The religious motion picture, "A Wonderful Life," will be shown in the churches of the charge on five consecutive evenings, October 21, 22, 23, 24 and 25, at 7:30 o'clock. This picture is a sequel to "Second Chance," which was shown in the churches similarly last fall. The general public is invited.

OK Pay Raise For County Officials

Harrisburg, Sept. 28 (AP)—Legislation granting salary increases to elected officials in 66 counties had legislative approval today. The series of bills were passed finally by the House last night and sent back to the Senate for concurrence in minor amendments.

Rep. George E. Goodling (R.-York), opposing the pay increases, told the House: "These bills are bad legislation. If enacted into law, they are going to cost the taxpayers of Pennsylvania an additional $810,000 a year."

The measures were approved by the House over Goodling's objections by identical votes of 197-7. The salary boosts affect all counties but Philadelphia. The down-the-line increases include offices of district attorney, sheriff, treasurer, county commissioners, controller, coroner, register of wills, prothonotary and others.

LOYALTY OATH BILL HELD UP

Harrisburg, Sept. 28 (AP)—A bill requiring anti-Communist oaths by public employes in Pennsylvania was held up indefinitely by the House last night.

The Senate-passed measure was in position for a final vote but supporters succeeded in delaying action after a count showed too many backers absent.

Rep. Edwin Tompkins (R.-Cameron), a leading supporter of the measure, succeeded in winning a delay on the bill after he told the House:

"We have a number of absentees and I think it only fair they be allowed to be here to cast their vote."

The bill would require loyalty oaths by all public employes in the state, including school teachers and elected officials. It is backed by state veterans' organizations and has the support of Gov. John S. Fine. The measure is opposed by civil rights groups, education organizations and the state CIO and AFL.

Rep. H. G. Andrews, Democratic floor leader, and strong opponent of the bill, sought unsuccessfully to force an immediate vote on the measure last night.

Outlaw Pickets At Courthouses

Harrisburg, Sept. 28 (AP)—Picketing of county courthouses because of objections to a trial going on inside is illegal today under a new bill signed by Gov. John S. Fine.

The new act prohibits picketing, parading or the use of a sound-truck at any courthouse with the intent of influencing a court trial. Such practices are barred at the home or office of a judge, juror, witness or court officer.

Penalties run up to a $5,000 fine and a year in jail.

Two Painters Die In Scaffold Fall

Philadelphia, Sept. 28 (AP)—A scaffolding under a bridge gave way, plunging two of four painters 90 feet to their deaths yesterday.

The other two men were able to save themselves by grabbing a cable and sliding down to safety.

The dead men were identified as Clayton Carter, 56, of Arlington, Va., and Clarence Murphy, of Philadelphia.

The painters were working on road beams under the new Penrose avenue ferry bridge, when a clamp worked loose, causing the scaffold to drop suddenly.

If everyone profited by their mistakes many would be able to pay dividends.

KING MAKING MORE PROGRESS

London, Sept. 28 (AP)—King George spent another comfortable night and maintained steady progress, a medical bulletin said today

It was the second optimistic bulletin in a row from the doctors who handled the king's critical lung operation Sunday

The bulletin, the ninth since the operation, said

"The king has had another comfortable night and is making steady progress."

Barring unforeseen complications, the king is now nearly out of danger, some medical specialists indicated today A number of Buckingham palace actions tend to back up their belief

According to one source in Harley street—London's street of doctors—the worst of King George's recovery period should be over within 24 hours.

Yesterday the king came safely through the critical fifth day since all or part of his lung was cut out Buckingham palace sources said Thursday marked the start of a second danger period of two or three days. Doctors say internal bleeding and fatique could set in during this phase

San Francisco, Sept. 28 (AP) — The impact of television on newspapers was brought under close scrutiny by 260 American editors Thursday A report to the Associated Press Managing Editors Association by a committee headed by Lee Hills of the Miami Herald concluded "the red light in TV for newspapers was a warning against dullness" Hills considered it a challenge to newspapers to be creative and "to take full advantage of the unique medium that we have"

Tax Consultant Is Guilty Of Fraud

Erie, Pa., Sept. 28 (AP) — A federal court jury today found Sheldon Wolfe, former Meadville (Pa) tax consultant, guilty on 32 of 38 charges of fraudulently preparing income tax returns. The verdict was returned at 3 50 a.m. (EST), more than 12 hours after the jurors had received the case

Wolfe is subject to a maximum sentence of five years in prison and a $5,000 fine on each count.

The government charged Wolfe made false deductions on 41 income tax reports for clients and caused the government to lose some $150,000 in tax money Three of the 41 charges were dropped during the trial

Wolfe flatly denied that he filed fraudulent returns He testified that all entries he made on the income tax sheets were with the full knowledge of his clients However, nearly 40 witnesses testified they gave Wolfe the information for their returns—then signed blank forms for him to prepare

Oil City, Pa., Sept. 28 (AP)—A 22-year-old woman and her two small children burned to death today in their farm home in Cranberry township about nine miles east of Oil City The victims Mrs Kenneth Bush, her son, Kenneth Jr 2½ years old, and daughter, Catherine seven weeks

Mrs Bush's husband was working the night shift at the Oil Well Supply company at Oil City when the fire broke out

Clair Moon, a neighbor returning home from work, discovered the blaze about 5 30 a.m (EST).

Moon said the roof of the small home was burned completely off. Failing to rouse other neighbors, he drove to nearby Seneca to notify the Seneca Volunteer Fire department By the time firemen arrived the one-story house was burned to the ground.

Firemen, who found the charred bodies in the ruins, said cause of the blaze can't be determined. They added it was possible an oil burner either overheated or exploded

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 28 (AP)—Three runaway railroad cars raced four miles downgrade at a better than mile-a-minute clip Thursday before smashing into a string of empty cars with a roaring crash that shook the ground for blocks around. No one was injured

The gondolas, two loaded with coal and one with sand, ripped up Lehigh Valley railroad branch line tracks for 150 feet and destroyed four of the empty cars before coming to a stop 100 feet east of the heavily-traveled Route 309 grade crossing at Beaver Meadows, four miles south of Hazleton.

OK Pay Raise For County Officials

Harrisburg, Sept. 28 (AP)—Legislation granting salary increases to elected officials in 66 counties had legislative approval today The series of bills were passed finally by the House last night and sent back to the Senate for concurrence in minor amendments

Rep George E Goodling (R-York) opposing the pay increases, told the House These bills are bad legislation If enacted into law, they are going to cost the taxpayers of Pennsylvania an additional $810,000 a year

The measures were approved by the House over Goodling's objections by identical votes of 197-7 The salary boosts affect all counties but Philadelphia The down-the-line increases include offices of district attorney sheriff, treasurer, county commissioners, controller, coroner, register of wills, prothonotary and others

LOYALTY OATH BILL HELD UP

Harrisburg, Sept. 28 (AP)—A bill requiring anti-Communist oaths by public employes in Pennsylvania was held up indefinitely by the House last night

The Senate-passed measure was in position for a final vote but supporters succeeded in delaying action after a count showed too many backers absent

Rep Edwin Tompkins (R-Cameron), a leading supporter of the measure succeeded in winning a delay on the bill after he told the House

"We have a number of absentees and I think it only fair they be allowed to be here to cast their vote"

The bill would require loyalty oaths by all public employes in the state including school teachers and elected officials It is backed by state veterans' organizations and has the support of Gov John S Fine The measure is opposed by civil rights groups education organizations and the state CIO and AFL

Rep H G. Andrews, Democratic floor leader and strong opponent of the bill sought unsuccessfully to force an immediate vote on the measure last night.

Outlaw Pickets At Courthouses

Harrisburg, Sept. 28 (AP)—Picketing of county courthouses because of objections to a trial going on inside is illegal today under a new bill signed by Gov John S Fine

The new act prohibits picketing parading or the use of a soundtruck at any courthouse with the intent of influencing a court trial Such practices are barred at the home or office of a judge, juror, witness or court officer

Penalties run up to a $5,000 fine and a year in jail.

Two Painters Die In Scaffold Fall

Philadelphia, Sept. 28 (AP)—A scaffolding under a bridge gave way, plunging two of four painters 90 feet to their deaths yesterday

The other two men were able to save themselves by grabbing a cable and sliding down to safety

The dead men were identified as Clayton Carter 56 of Arlington, Va., and Clarence Murphy, of Philadelphia.

The painters were working on road beams under the new Penrose avenue ferry bridge, when a clamp worked loose, causing the scaffold to drop suddenly

"COOLING OFF" RECESS LIKELY FOR ASSEMBLY

Harrisburg, Sept. 28 (AP) — The House and Senate refused to backtrack today on their differences in choosing a date to get down to the brass tacks of voting taxes.

Although both chambers recessed last night until Monday, they scheduled only token sessions for next week.

The Senate called a "no business" session for next week to enforce a demand that the General Assembly recess until December 10. The House did likewise in insisting that the upper branch continue meetings until it votes a tax program to balance Gov. John S. Fine's budget.

Rank-and-file lawmakers were told they may stay home next week if they wished. Technically, the Legislature will be in session but no business will be transacted.

Democrats went along with the Republican move but instructed a handful of its members to keep a watchful eye on next week's proceedings.

Stick To Their Guns

The House Republican caucus voted last night to stick by its guns on opposition to the December 10 recess. But it gave the House GOP leadership a blank check to seek some sort of an agreement next week.

The Democratic House minority introduced a resolution to adjourn finally October 5 but it was tabled without a vote. The Senate plan is to return December 10, meet for 12 days to dispose of taxes and then end the 1951 session December 22.

The governor, however, refused to enter into the name-calling feud between the two branches.

"I am leaving matters up to the respective branches of the Legislature," Fine told newsmen.

Sen. G. Graybill Diehm (R-Lancaster) said, however, that it was Fine's idea in the first place to call a December 10 recess so that the income tax forces could be regrouped in another try at Senate enactment.

Walker Apologizes

Sen. John M. Walker, Republican floor leader, apologized last night for his description of House members as "a bunch of spoiled brats."

"It was made in a spirit of levity and jest," he told the Senate, "It was not made with the intention of being derogatory to the House or its members. I am sorry."

Earlier, Rep. William R. McMillen (R-Indiana) verbally hauled Walker over the coals, using some of the most bitter language heard in the House in the current session.

"The Senate majority leader is a political opportunist, devoid of public interest, is intellectually bankrupt and has, by his injudicious and unstatesmanlike utterances and attitude, again shown he has neither the capacity nor qualities for leadership and cannot rise above his own personal ambition," said McMillen.

(The House is in recess until 3:30 p.m., EST, and the Senate, 3 p.m., EST, Monday, October 1).

Turns To Shakespeare To Denounce Senate

Harrisburg, Sept. 28 (AP)—Gov. John S. Fine compared himself to Julius Caesar being betrayed by Brutus last night in his difficulties with the Senate over the proposed state income tax.

The governor, speaking before the State Education Congress, bitterly lashed out at opponents of the income tax as he departed from a prepared address. Fine said he was like a football captain whose own quarterback was "calling signals for the other side."

He didn't mention names but it was obvious he was referring to Sen. John M. Walker, Republican floor leader in the Senate, who has been a leader in the anti-income tax forces.

Turning to education, fine urged the congress to "teach the full meaning of our instruments of liberty with enthusiasm."

"In the classrooms of Pennsylvania," the governor said, "there is no place for any teachers or teaching that is not grounded in the firm belief that our American form of government is the best in the world."

TRUMAN BANS OPS NEWS BAN

Washington, Sept. 28 (AP) — An Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) memo to its staff to withhold from the public any information which might embarrass it was killed promptly last night on President Truman's orders.

The chief executive moved just two hours and nine minutes after word of the directive leaked out, but even that was not soon enough to head off a storm of protest over the OPS action in the Senate.

Joseph Short, White House press secretary, announced that Mr. Truman had directed that the memo be withdrawn because it "might be misconstrued" to be an outgrowth of Mr. Truman's order setting up new curbs on release of material affecting the national security.

The controversial OPS memo was issued Tuesday, the same day Mr. Truman issued his order. The President had said his new security regulations "must not be used to x x x cover up mistakes made by any official or employe of the government."

The first chief justice of the U. S. Supreme Court was John Jay. He served from 1789 to 1795.

"COOLING OFF" RECESS LIKELY FOR ASSEMBLY

Harrisburg, Sept. 28 (AP) — The House and Senate refused to backtrack today on their differences in choosing a date to get down to the brass tacks of voting taxes.

Although both chambers recessed last night until Monday, they scheduled only token sessions for next week.

The Senate called a "no business" session for next week to enforce a demand that the General Assembly recess until December 10. The House did likewise in insisting that the upper branch continue meetings until it votes a tax program to balance Gov. John S. Fine's budget.

Rank-and-file lawmakers were told they may stay home next week if they wished. Technically the Legislature will be in session but no business will be transacted.

Democrats went along with the Republican move but instructed a handful of its members to keep a watchful eye on next week's proceedings.

Stick To Their Guns

The House Republican caucus voted last night to stick by its guns in opposition to the December 10 recess. But it gave the House GOP leadership a blank check to seek some sort of an agreement next week.

The Democratic House minority introduced a resolution to adjourn finally October 5 but it was tabled without a vote. The Senate plan is to return December 10, meet for 12 days to dispose of taxes and then end the 1951 session December 22.

The governor, however, refused to enter into the name-calling feud between the two branches.

"I am leaving matters up to the respective branches of the Legislature," Fine told newsmen.

Sen. G. Graybill Diehm (R-Lancaster) said, however, that it was Fine's idea in the first place to call a December 10 recess so that the income tax forces could be regrouped in another try at Senate enactment.

Walker Apologizes

Sen. John M. Walker, Republican floor leader, apologized last night for his description of House members as "a bunch of spoiled brats."

"It was made in a spirit of levity and jest," he told the Senate. "It was not made with the intention of being derogatory to the House or its members. I am sorry."

Earlier, Rep. William R. McMillen (R-Indiana) verbally hauled Walker over the coals, using some of the most bitter language heard in the House in the current session.

(The House is in recess until 3:30 p.m., EST, and the Senate, 3 p.m., EST, Monday, October 1.)

ENLARGING THE FELLOWSHIP

Romans 15:14-29

Memory Selection: I am not ashamed of the gospel; it is the power of God for salvation to every one who has faith. Rom. 1:16

The whole spirit of the Christian religion calls for the spreading of its influence. This is unmistakable as one reads the pages of the Bible and these many clear commands to engage in this divine enterprise. Isaiah gave voice to this thought when he said (Isaiah 30:1-3), "Arise shine—and the Gentiles shall come to thy light." That was both a call to action and a prediction of success divinely inspired. Jesus, before leaving His earthly mission, gave a clear command: "Ye shall be My witnesses—unto the uttermost part of the earth" (Acts 1:4-8). This is a command to all who bear the name of Christian. There is no choice unless it be to ignore or neglect to follow the directive.

The Apostle Paul

In Paul we have a most impressive example of what can be accomplished by one who gives himself to Christ without any reservations. Not every Christian can be a Paul, but every one can have the spirit of Paul and then achieve according to his ability and opportunity. All such consecrated effort will have the blessing of the Lord.

The entire text of our lesson is from Paul's remarkable letter to the Christians at Rome. A brief study of it will be enlightening. The Apostle did not establish the Church at Rome but was greatly interested in it. The Christian community was an assortment of Jews, Romans and Greeks. Rome was then the metropolis of the whole world. To it were attracted many enterprising people. Among them, we may rightly believe, were Jews who had come under the spell of the Holy Spirit in Jerusalem at Pentecost. Eventually Paul expected to visit the Church in Rome. For the present he must be satisfied by writing a letter. It contains the beliefs Paul held to be essential; it is worldwide in outlook. While the epistle to the Hebrews is slanted towards one people, Romans is truly international. Next to the four Gospels it is hailed as the most important book of the New Testament.

In the lesson text Paul states his confidence that the Christians at Rome are fully able to instruct and admonish one another. But he also feels that as a true missionary he should write to them concerning the new faith. Evidently he believes it is not enough for a man to be well planted, he must also be cultivated. Any alert pastor will know this to be true.

Paul is a true missionary. He is always seeking new fields for his endeavors, preferring not merely to minister where others before him had planted the Gospel. So he

THE PILLAR OF CLOUD and THE PILLAR OF FIRE

It happened three thousand years ago. A pillar of cloud and a pillar of fire were the symbols of Divine Guidance. By them, God led His chosen people through the wilderness.

Hardly the same thing as an atomic explosion . . . and yet, is it possible that this modern pillar of cloud and fire is leading men through a modern wilderness!

The fearful knowledge of the extent to which man has perfected the "art of destruction" is awakening the world to a new appreciation of the importance of spiritual guidance.

Next Sunday—World Wide Communion Sunday—millions of men and women will unite in solemn observance of one of Christianity's holy sacraments. There will be new faces at thousands of altars, men and women who have only recently begun to realize where man's Hope is to be found.

God again appears in a pillar of cloud and fire!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

ENLARGING THE FELLOWSHIP

Romans 15 14-29

Memory Selection " I am not ashamed of the gospel it is the power of God for salvation to every one who has faith Rom 1 16

The whole spirit of the Christian religion calls for the spreading of its influence This is unmistakable as one reads the pages of the Bible and these many clear commands to engage in this divine enterprise Isaiah gave voice to this thought when he said Isaiah 30 1-3) Arise shine—and the Gentiles shall come to thy light That was both a call to action and a prediction of success divinely inspired Jesus before leaving His earthly mission gave a clear command Ye shall be My witnesses—unto the uttermost part of the earth" (Acts 1 4-8) This is a command to all who bear the name of Christian There is no choice unless it be to ignore or neglect to follow the directive

In Paul we have a most impressive example of what can be accomplished by one who gives himself to Christ without any reservations Not every Christian can be a Paul but every one can have the spirit of Paul and then achieve according to his ability and opportunity All such consecrated effort will have the blessing of the Lord

The entire text of our lesson is from Paul's remarkable letter to the Christians at Rome A brief study of it will be enlightening The Apostle did not establish the Church at Rome but was greatly interested in it The Christian community was an assortment of Jews, Romans and Greeks Rome was then the metropolis of the whole world To it were attracted many enterprising people Among them we may rightly believe were Jews who had come under the spell of the Holy Spirit in Jerusalem at Pentecost Eventually Paul expected to visit the Church in Rome For the present he must be satisfied by writing a letter It contains the beliefs Paul held to be essential It is worldwide in outlook While the epistle to the Hebrews is slanted towards the Jewish people Romans is truly international Next to the four Gospels it is hailed as the most important book of the New Testament

In the lesson text Paul states his confidence that the Christians at Rome are fully able to instruct and admonish one another But he also feels that as a true missionary he should write to them concerning the new faith Evidently he believes it is not enough for a man to be well planted he must also be cultivated Any alert pastor will know this to be true

Paul is a great missionary He is always seeking new fields for his endeavors [illegible] merely to minister [illegible] before him had planted [illegible] So he

THE PILLAR OF CLOUD and THE PILLAR OF FIRE

It happened three thousand years ago. A pillar of cloud and a pillar of fire were the symbols of Divine Guidance. By them, God led His chosen people through the wilderness.

Hardly the same thing as an atomic explosion . . . and yet, is it possible that this modern pillar of cloud and fire is leading men through a modern wilderness!

The fearful knowledge of the extent to which man has perfected the "art of destruction" is awakening the world to a new appreciation of the importance of spiritual guidance.

Next Sunday—World Wide Communion Sunday—millions of men and women will unite in solemn observance of one of Christianity's holy sacraments. There will be new faces at thousands of altars, men and women who have only recently begun to realize where man's Hope is to be found.

God again appears in a pillar of cloud and fire!

COPS' NAMES TO REMAIN SECRET

New York, Sept. 28 (AP)—In a surprise turnabout, the state decided Thursday not to reveal the identities of cops named as bribe-takers in secret grand jury testimony by bookmaker Harry Gross.

Shortly before reading of the explosive testimony was slated to begin in Special Sessions court, Kings County Judge Samuel S. Leibowitz announced the decision to keep the names secret.

More than 100 policemen, including some of the top brass in the department, reportedly were listed by Gross as being in on his million-dollar-a-year graft payoffs.

Leibowitz previously had said the full roster would be unfolded in open court, but he said today that to give the names, without the accused men having a chance to defend themselves, would be "manifestly unfair and un-American."

The previous plan to unveil the secret evidence came after Gross wrecked the trial of 18 cops by suddenly refusing to testify at a crucial moment.

The state had said it would bare testimony Thursday before the Special Sessions court, which is to sentence the kingpin bookmaker on 66 counts of gambling and conspiracy. He could draw up to 68 years in prison, but it was not expected in legal circles that the bookmaker would get such a heavy penalty.

Leibowitz, who did not explain what had caused him to change his mind, said that District Attorney Miles McDonald and Assistant D.A. Julius Helfand concurred in the decision to withhold the names.

The state had said it would bare testimony Thursday before the Special Sessions court, which is to sentence the kingpin bookmaker on 66 counts of gambling and conspiracy. He could draw up to 68 years in prison, but it was not expected in legal circles that the bookmaker would get such a heavy penalty.

Leibowitz, who did not explain what had caused him to change his mind, said that District Attorney Miles McDonald and Assistant D.A. Julius Helfand concurred in the decision to withhold the names.

MAKING OF FINE BEER AN "ART"

Detroit, Sept. 28 (AP) — Scientific developments have helped but the brewing of fine beer still is primarily an art. Even the true scientists among 1,100 master brewers at a convention here agree on that.

"It's both an art and a science and the art definitely comes first," said Edward W. Huber of Milwaukee, president of the Master Brewers Association of America.

"You hear a lot of talk about a formula for beer," chimed in F. N. Ward of Toronto. "But basically there is no such thing as an absolute formula."

Ward is scheduled to succeed Huber in the association's top job and if he does he will become the first Canadian to lead the group.

What is the art of beer making?

"It's the ability to make fine beer from natural materials," said Ward. But he quickly added that there can be no good definition for it any more than there is a recipe for a famous chef's favorite sauce.

Both agreed that the art has been preserved down through the centuries while the scientific developments have been taking place. They both also agreed that there's "no comparison" between modern brew and the kind our ancestors drank. They implied also that the nickel beer of the past was worth only that.

In 1371, a Paris law required each homeowner to place a hogshead of water at his door as a precaution against fire. They bred a lot of mosquitoes.

Tip to motorists—Say it with brakes and save the flowers.

RESTAURANT TEA CALLED FELONY BY BITTER SCRIBE

By HAL BOYLE

New York, Sept. 28 (AP)—"If the great American tragedy today is the average cup of restaurant coffee, pray tell what is the average cup of restaurant tea?"

This query came from a lady fond of the brew that cheers but not inebriates — which, by the way, is tea.

And I feel I can give an authoritative answer. The average cup of restaurant tea isn't tea at all. It is a felony perforce, a high crime against two of the noblest beverages of history — honest water, honest tea.

More Sensitive Souls

It is a far worse thing to serve a bad cup of tea than it is a bad cup of coffee, because it wounds the recipient more grievously.

Coffee drinkers are hearty, durable, down-to-earth people able to stand the shocks and disappointments of life. But your true tea lover is a finer, more sensitive soul, easily depressed by harsh realities.

I don't say this altogether just because I am a tea lover myself, although naturally that's a factor. The poets and writers of the past have hinted at this truth.

"Thank God for tea!" cried Sydney Smith. "What would the world do without tea? I am glad I was not born before tea."

Beverage of the Intellectual

Emerson observed "There is a great deal of poetry and fine sentiment in a chest of tea."

Edmund Waller spoke of tea as "the Muse's friend." And Thomas De Quincey wrote: "Tea, though ridiculed by those who are naturally coarse in their nervous sensibilities . . . will always be the favorite beverage of the intellectual."

(Editor's note: Is that the same guy who wrote "Confessions of an English Opium-Eater"?)

(Boyle's note: Yes, he went on to opium from restaurant tea.)

Explains Poetry Decline

Tea drinking is a highly esoteric art, it can become a cult. But it is basically as simple as putting tea leaves in boiling water. You can add a lot of refinements, but if you simply do that you'll get an acceptable drink.

The trouble with restaurant tea boils down to this: The average restaurant simply seems unable to boil water.

The waitress drops a cheesecloth sack containing five assorted tea leaves into a small piece of covered crockery supposedly containing boiling water. Anxiously you wait a moment, sorrowfully you pour, despairingly you taste. It is as tepid as a Victorian love scene, as flavorless as melted snow.

The reason American poetry has declined is probably the fact young poets no longer know where to get good tea.

MAKING OF FINE BEER AN "ART"

Detroit, Sept. 28 (AP) — Scientific developments have helped but the brewing of fine beer still is primarily an art. Even the true scientists among 1,100 master brewers at a convention here agree on that.

"It's both an art and a science and the art definitely comes first," said Edward W. Huber of Milwaukee, president of the Master Brewers Association of America.

"You hear a lot of talk about a formula for beer," chimed in P. N. Ward of Toronto. "But basically there is no such thing as an absolute formula."

Ward is scheduled to succeed Huber in the association's top job and if he does he will become the first Canadian to lead the group.

What is the art of beer making?

"It's the ability to make fine beer from natural materials," said Ward. But he quickly added that there can be no good definition for it any more than there is a recipe for a famous chef's favorite sauce.

Both agreed that the art has been preserved down through the centuries while the scientific developments have been taking place. They both also agreed that there's "no comparison" between modern brew and the kind our ancestors drank. They implied also that the nickel beer of the past was worth only that.

In 1371 a Paris law required each homeowner to place a hogshead of water at his door as a precaution against fire. They bred a lot of mosquitoes.

RESTAURANT TEA CALLED FELONY BY BITTER SCRIBE

By HAL BOYLE

New York, Sept. 28 (AP)—"If the great American tragedy today is the average cup of restaurant coffee, pray tell what is the average cup of restaurant tea?"

This query came from a lady fond of the brew that cheers but not inebriates — which, by the way, is tea.

And I feel I can give an authoritative answer. The average cup of restaurant tea isn't tea at all. It is a felony perforce, a high crime against two of the noblest beverages of history — honest water, honest tea.

More Sensitive Souls

It is a far worse thing to serve a bad cup of tea than it is a bad cup of coffee, because it wounds the recipient more grievously.

Coffee drinkers are hearty, durable, down-to-earth people able to stand the shocks and disappointments of life. But your true tea lover is a finer, more sensitive soul, easily depressed by harsh realities.

I don't say this altogether just because I am a tea lover myself, although naturally that's a factor. The poets and writers of the past have hinted at this truth.

"Thank God for tea!" cried Sydney Smith. "What would the world do without tea? I am glad I was not born before tea."

Beverage of the Intellectual

Emerson observed: "There is a great deal of poetry and fine sentiment in a chest of tea."

Edmund Waller spoke of tea as "the Muse's friend." And Thomas De Quincey wrote: "Tea, though ridiculed by those who are naturally coarse in their nervous sensibilities . . . will always be the favorite beverage of the intellectual."

(Editor's note: Is that the same guy who wrote "Confessions of an English Opium-Eater"?)

(Boyle's note: Yes, he went on to opium from restaurant tea.)

Explains Poetry Decline

Tea drinking is a highly esoteric art, it can become a cult. But it is basically as simple as putting tea leaves in boiling water. You can add a lot of refinements, but if you simply do that you'll get an acceptable drink.

The trouble with restaurant tea boils down to this: The average restaurant simply seems unable to boil water.

The waitress drops a cheesecloth sack containing five assorted tea leaves into a small piece of covered crockery supposedly containing boiling water. Anxiously you wait a moment, sorrowfully you pour, despairingly you taste. It is as tepid as a Victorian love scene, as flavorless as melted snow.

The reason American poetry has declined is probably the fact young poets no longer know where to get good tea.

Harrisburg, Sept. 28 (AP) — Some 3,686 acres of land formerly used for strip mining have been backfilled and planted with shrubs or grass since 1945, the state Mines department reports. The planting was done by the coal operators while the Department of Forests and Waters planted an additional 7,101,800 trees and shrubs under a six-year old act.

One thing a student of mathematics never learns is that curves can make a triangle.
